HOLD SUSPECT IN BURGLARIES AT 3 HOMES; RECOVER LOOT

Carlin Brown Jr., 22, Baltimore negro, was in the county jail today charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore with the larceny of a dress, and under suspicion of having burglarized the homes of former sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz, E. Lincoln Ave.; Moses Sherman, E. Broadway, and Robert Steinberger, 132 Carlisle St.

Brown was arrested Wednesday for the theft of a package containing a dress sent to Mrs. Theodore Schmitz, 132 Carlisle St. Police found on his person keys to the Steinberger apartment and the antique pistol stolen from the home of former Sheriff Schultz on February 22.

Police said Brown had been residing for the "last week or so" at the "hobo haven," a one-story concrete block building on the county home property put up to provide overnight shelter for transients.

Aroused Suspicions
Wednesday morning Brown, according to the police, went to the Gilliland apartments on Carlisle St. and entering the hallway picked up a dress sent by Florida Fashions, Inc., to Mrs. Schmitz at her order. Police said mailmen who had delivered the package had knocked on Mrs. Schmitz' door, but knowing she was ill had left the package at the door for her when she did not knock.

Brown, according to police, put the package in an Acme Store shopping bag he was carrying and then knocked on Mrs. Schmitz' door. When she responded he asked where Steinbergers resided and was told that they lived in the opposite apartment. Brown then rapped on Steinberger's door and when no one answered left the apartment building.

Two Gettysburg men, police said, saw Brown leave the building carrying the shopping bag and, following suspicious of his actions, followed him. The men saw him go to the post office where he remained for some time. When he left that building he threw a paper away.

Had Dress In Bag

REPORTS 820 BOY SCOUTS IN B. W. DISTRICT

Membership in the Boy Scouts in the Black Walnut District now totals 820, Field Executive Stanley C. Rogers reported Wednesday evening at a meeting of the district committee at the engine house.

The number he said, is an all time high for this time of year and indicates that the Scouting movement will probably exceed 900 by summer. At present there are 365 Cub Scouts, 302 Boy Scouts and 153 Explorers.

He said five new units may be formed in the near future. Atty. Daniel E. Teeter, district finance chairman, reported $2,300 donated thus far in the current drive outside Gettysburg. $5,400 is the goal.

District Camporee
Crosby N. Hartzell, camping and activities chairman, said plans for the district camporee to be held May 22, 23, 24 near Fairfield, "call for an old fashioned encampment with contests on Scouting skills."

Charles Polley reported plans for a rifle safety class to begin March 12 for five consecutive Thursdays at the American Legion home, Baltimore St. All graduates of the course will be recognized by the state as having qualified for use of the rifle, he said.

Training Chairman Donald Carver reported on a Den Mothers' workshop to be held at Camp Tuckahoe May 2 and 3 and a Regional Training Institute to be held at New Cumberland April 25.

James Schwenk, institutional representative from St. James Lutheran Church, reported American flags available for units which do not have them.

3 Local Students On Honor Rolls

Three local students have been named to the dean's honor list in recognition of scholastic excellence during the first semester of the academic year at Gettysburg College. Ninety-one are on the list.

The students are: Lee Irvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Irvin, 134 E. Water St.; Mrs. Helen Staub, daughter of Ralph E. Barley, 420 Harrisburg St., and Jon Wagnild, son of Prof. and Mrs. Parker B. Wagnild, R. 2.

Mrs. Staub and Wagnild are graduates of Gettysburg High School and Irvin is a graduate of Delone Catholic High, McSherrystown.

R. C. NURSES' AIDE COURSE TO BE OFFERED

Announcement was made today of the Red Cross nurses' aide training course here in nearly a decade.

Mrs. Louis P. Wahl, chairman of the Red Cross Nurses' Aide Corps, announced a course for training nurses' aides will begin at the Warner Hospital Monday, March 16, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Delp, assistant director of nurses there.

The schedule of classes will be from 9 a.m. to noon five days a week for two weeks. In addition to the 30 hours of instruction there will be 18 hours of training and supervised practice in the hospital, Mrs. Wahl said.

To Get Caps, Pins
The practical experience and text book theory will cover all departments of the hospital work, Mrs. Wahl said.

After the training is completed, the new Red Cross Nurses' Aides will receive their caps and pins to be worn with the regulation uniforms which will be purchased at the Red Cross office.

All women, aged 18 to 55, who have had the equivalent of two years of high school, are eligible for the training course if they meet certain other requirements, Mrs. Wahl said. She said they must possess such personal characteristics as discretion, sympathetic understanding and emotional stability. The Red Cross requires written approval from parents of volunteers who are under 18 years of age.

Needed At Hospital
Schedules for volunteer work at the hospital will be set up upon completion of the course.

Trained nurses' aides are called upon to assist in the Red Cross blood program, disaster operations and Civil Defense but the greatest need now is for additional help at the hospital, Mrs. Wahl said.

Walter B. Dillon, Warner Hospital administrator, said this morning that "the increased census at the hospital would make regular volunteer service from nurses' aides very wonderful help to our present nursing staff."

Recruitment folders describing the volunteer nurses' aides service and application blanks are available at the Red Cross office where applicants will be interviewed. A physical examination will be required before the course is begun March 16. Red Cross orientation also will be given.

LOSES WALLET, CASH

Luther Harmon, Biglerville R. 1, reported to borough police that he lost a black leather wallet containing cards and $40 in cash. He said it was lost in the area of Dr. Raymond Sheely's office on Baltimore St.

21 Boys Perish In Little Rock Training School Fire

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Twenty-one boys died in a raging fire that destroyed the main dormitory of the State Training School for Negro Boys at Nearby Wrightsville early today. Two inmates were missing.

There were 68 inmates in the brick and frame structure. The survivors escaped by kicking out the windows and screens.

Doors to the big one-story building were locked.

Will Investigate
Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who went to the scene as soon as he heard of the fire, said the doors should not have been barred and there should have been an adult in the building.

Faubus said an investigation would be made. Origin of the blaze that destroyed the dormitory within an hour could not be determined immediately. Faubus said he had been told there was an electrical storm at the time.

Two Demolished Automobiles In Fatal Accident

Below is a photograph of the automobiles of Mrs. Mildred V. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg, and Lloyd Sowers, Dillsburg R. 3, after they crashed headon near the Blue and Gray cabins, eight miles south of here, Wednesday evening. The five occupants of the two autos were killed. It was the most tragic accident in this vicinity in many years. A car which drifted onto the highway after being serviced with gasoline was struck in the rear. This started the fatal crash. (Times Photo)

State Planning Road Improvement

The state Highways Department today announced, according to the Associated Press from Harrisburg, that it plans improvements to the 2.8 mile stretch of highway known as the Jack's Mountain Rd. between Fairfield and Fountaindale.

The Associated Press quoted the state department as saying it "has asked the county to contribute $48,100 to the project to cover property damages."

Crosby N. Hartzell, chief clerk to the county commissioners, said this morning that the county had received no request so far from the state Highways Department for property damages and said that the county did not have $48,000 unallocated in the liquid fund from which sums to cover damages are drawn.

American Pioneer IV Orbits Sun After Passing Moon; It Will Keep Going "Forever"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer IV spun past the 300,000-mile level today still sending back clear accounts of space mysteries unraveled in its race into orbit around the sun.

Scientists say it will keep going forever, or until eternity.

The General Electric tracking station in Schenectady, N.Y., received the Pioneer's signal at 10:15 a.m. EST, when the moon probe was 305,000 miles from earth. GE said it expected to lose the signals at about 1:15 p.m.

The tracking station at Goldstone in the Mojave Desert of California picked up the radio voice of the gold-washed cone at 7:37 a.m. EST today from far out past the moon.

303,000 Miles Out
At that time the distance from earth, computed from telemetry signals described as strong and clear, was 303,000 miles. In line with advance calculation, speed away from the earth had dropped to 4,250 miles an hour.

The signals showed a temperature of 41 to 42 degrees centigrade —104 degrees Fahrenheit— for the instrument payload of the space traveler. That was higher than the temperatures radioed back by the Army's Pioneer III which went about a third of the way to the moon before it failed and fell back. It was well within the range of comfort for space travelers of the future.

No Radiation Belt
Earlier reports from the American space traveler already had given another favorable indication for man's own ventures outside the earth's environs — no major radiation belt encountered above the two discovered by Explorer satellites.

The 13-pound cone sped past the moon, 37,000 miles to the side, at 5:24 p.m. Wednesday, at a velocity of 4,325 miles an hour.

Before Goldstone picked up the signals this morning, the British station at Jodrell Bank had locked on its signals and followed them from 3 a.m. to about 8 a.m.

Precise Calculation
The multiple tracking provided new opportunity for precise new calculations on speed and distance. (Continued On Page 3)

Headon Collision

According to Peterson, Louis D. Sheely, 31, Fairfield R. 1, had purchased gasoline for his car at the Blue and Gray Cabins and his vehicle drifted or backed into the highway in the path of the Sowers vehicle.

The Sowers car struck the rear of the Sheely auto, then swerved across the highway and crashed Headon into Mrs. Keilholtz' auto. The Sowers and Keilholtz cars stopped "within a foot of where they collided," Peterson said.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Mrs. Keilholtz died of a compound fracture of the skull, internal injuries, a badly crushed chest, and compound fractures of both legs. She died enroute to the Annie M. Warner Hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance. Dr. Crist placed Mrs. Keilholtz's death in Cumberland Twp. The accident had occurred in Freedom Twp.

Four Killed Instantly

The four in the Sowers car were killed instantly.

Members of the Gettysburg Fire, responding with the ambulance and rescue truck, removed the four from the Sowers auto. Dr. Crist said Gary and Lloyd Sowers were pinned against the windshield by the front seat which had been torn from its fastenings. Kirk and 12-year-old Jay Sowers, who had been in the rear seat of the auto, were thrown against and under the front seat by the impact.

The occupants of the Sowers auto had attended a horse sale at Thurmont Wednesday night and were enroute home when the accident occurred, police said. Brides and other equipment they had purchased at the sale were found in their car.

Had Been Drinking

Sheely, a bartender at the New Blue Duck, near Emmitsburg, and almost blind in one eye, told police he had been drinking "a few Rolling Rock ponies," and had driven the car he was operating, which he said was owned by Hansel Brooks, Fairfield, to the Blue and Gray Cabins to "load it with gasoline."

Sheely said that after he had purchased the gasoline the 1947 Pontiac would not start and he and an attendant at the gas pumps had worked with it. The engine finally started and "then there was this banging and clanging and the next thing I knew I was here," Sheely said at the Warner Hospital. He was removed to the hospital, but physicians there were unable to find any injuries.

Car May Have Drifted
Sheely told police he believed his car must have drifted down the slight grade at the service station onto the road while he was attempting to get the engine started. He said he does not recall having put the vehicle in gear.

Damage was estimated by police at $550 to Sowers' 1954 Ford, $150 to the Pontiac and $300 to Mrs. Keilholtz' 1951 Buick. The officers said they termed all the cars as demolished.

Was Fruitgrower

Lloyd J. Sowers was a fruit-grower and with his son, Gary, operator of a pony business near Filey's Lutheran Church, Dillsburg R. 3. It was said that he, Gary, Jay and Kirk had gone to the horse auction at Thurmont to make arrangements for some saddles, etc., for a sale of ponies to be conducted at the Sower's establishment.

Sowers was born an eighth of a mile from the home in which he resided. Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Sara Graham; two sons, Memphord and Lloyd, both of Dillsburg R. 3, near Filey's Church, and two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Diehl, Carlisle R. 3, and Miss Sharon Sowers, at home. Also surviving are 11 grandchildren, a stepson, Leon Herr, Hillsville, Va.; three brothers, Robert, Wilbur and Arthur Sowers, all of Dillsburg R. 3, and a sister, Mrs. (Continued On Page 3)

C. W. CRAWFORD PASSES AWAY

Charles William Crawford, 78, Abbotstown R. 1, a retired truck farmer, died this morning at 7 o'clock at the York Hospital where he had been a patient for the last three weeks.

A native of Jones' Spring, W. Va., he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford and was the last survivor of his immediate family.

He moved to the Abbotstown area 53 years ago and was a member of the St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbotstown, and the Men's Bible Class of that church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Estella Auckey, to whom he had been wed 54 years; five children, Mrs. Lester E. Nickey, Abbotstown R. 1; Harry R. Crawford, Abbotstown; Charles E. Crawford, Baltimore; Mrs. Mildred Cromer, Hanover, and Mrs. Naomi Waltemyer, Hanover. There are 23 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbotstown, with his pastor, the Rev. Lester J. Karshner, officiating. The body will lie in state at the church from 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon until the time of the funeral. Friends may call Saturday evening after 7 o'clock at the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford.

Group Meets On Convocation Plans

The executive committee and the presidents of the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants' Association and the Gettysburg Travel Council will meet Friday at 12:30 p.m. for luncheon with Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the town committee for the April 3 convocation at Gettysburg College. Town participation will be discussed. Fred A. Seaton, U. S. secretary of the interior, will speak.

Paul B. Fox is chairman of the executive committee, which has as members Russell Campbell, Robert A. Codori, Fred Faber, Donald Hershey, Harold Reuning, Scharf, C. Ross Shuman and R. K. Will.

Julian N. Estep is president of the Chamber, George Miller of the Retail Merchants and Walter B. Lane of the Travel Council.

Dog Law Officer To Get Hearing

A hearing for James G. McDowell Jr., state dog law enforcement officer for this county, on a charge of maliciously shooting a domestic animal, will be held Friday at 7 p.m. before Second Ward Alderman H. Gellard Fickes, in York.

The charge was brought by Freeman L. Hoffmaster Jr., Manchester R. 1, father of a 13-year-old boy whose dog was shot to death by McDowell February 6. Meanwhile, a decision on a charge of having an unlicensed dog against Hoffmaster, which was brought by McDowell, is still pending before York Twp. Justice of the Peace Ivan Wine-miller who is awaiting a written opinion from District Attorney Frank B. Boyle. Wine-miller held the case under advisement after a February 20 hearing.

Taneytown Scouts Organize Patrol

A new patrol, the fifth in Boy Scout Troop 348, Taneytown, has been organized. David Hopkins is leader of the patrol, named Rattlesnakes. Other Scouts are Colin Hird, John Les Calleet, Dwight Perry, Kermit Stambaugh, Michael Tracey and Charles Welk.

The new patrol made a good start at the troop's last meeting, being judged by Scoutmaster Robert J. Rock as best in a first aid demonstration.

The Scouts will collect paper and rags Saturday starting at 8 a.m. Streets in town and the roads to Mayberry, Copperville, Course's Mill and Pine Hill will be covered and calls will be made at the homes of those near town who regularly save their papers for the Scout drives.

Local Firm Low Bidder On Project

The Gettysburg Construction Co. was unofficial low bidder, at $39,451, for the general construction contract for a residence at the Samuel G. Dixon State Hospital, Mont Alto, the Associated Press reported today. Bids were opened this morning by the General State Authority in Harrisburg.

Keystone Grate and Blower Works, Chambersburg, were low bidders for heating and ventilating, $2,327, and plumbing, $5,858. Larry S. Stout, Lehighton, was low electrical bidder at $3,565.

STOCKS IRREGULAR
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market churned irregularly near its latest record high in active trading early this afternoon.

Profits were taken on the phenomenal recent gains of some of the space age stocks, resulting in a few wide declines.

Otherwise the list of key stocks showed gains and losses generally within a 1-point range.

A graduate of Central Dauphin High School, the bride is employed by the Merchants and Businessmen Mutual Insurance Co. Her husband, a graduate of Mechanicsburg High School, is employed by Stevenson's Greenhouse. They are living in Hogestown.

FREE WORLD MUST HAVE FREE PRESS

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—If we're going to have a free world, we must have a free press.

That was the theme of the World Press Congress as it ended Wednesday night with pleas for more and better coverage of world news. No formal action was taken. The congress met for the first time in 33 years to help the world's first school of journalism at the University of Missouri celebrate its golden anniversary.

The motto was "A strong free press for a better free world."

Set Chief Goal
To achieve that, the delegates set these chief goals in their three days of discussion:

1. Seek greater press freedom in all nations through elimination of governmental restrictions and outside influence.
2. Improve public understanding of world problems by better reporting of foreign news.
3. Strengthen public confidence in newspapers, radio and television through strict accuracy and objectivity.
4. Seek ways to restore the privileges of a free press to journalists caught behind the Iron Curtain.

Fire Company Election Held

Members of McSherrystown fire company Wednesday night chose Paul Krepps Jr. to succeed Francis Warner as president.

Fire Chief Eugene Murren was re-elected as were his first and second assistants, Lewis Smith and James Noel, in that order.

Other officers named were: Henry Reese, first vice president; Bernard Giff, second vice president; Daniel Brady, secretary, and William B. Lawrence, treasurer.

Directors chosen for one year were James Giff, Eugene B. Noel, Lawrence Leonard, Leroy Moore, Philip Hagerman, Robert V. Smith and Paul Reese.

James Giff was chosen chief plugman, to be assisted by Joseph Bunty and William Hagerman.

Donald Oaster was voted chief hose director and the following were named assistants: Paul Krepps Jr., Joseph Staub, Eugene B. Noel and Alfred Smith.

Leroy Moore was elected chief nozzlemaster along with the following assistants: Lawrence Leonard, Joseph Thoman, William Lawrence, Paul Reese, Jack Warner, Guy Hoffman, Thomas Conrad and Walter Zimmer.

Thirty-four members were present. The next meeting will be held April 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall.

INTERVIEW TONIGHT
Mrs. William M. Lott on her "Hometown Story" program on WGET this evening at 7:15 o'clock.

AGENTS SEIZE $1 MILLION IN BOGUS MONEY

CHICAGO (AP)—Recovery of more than one million dollars in $100 bogus bills and the seizure of 25 members of a nationwide counterfeiting ring were announced today by the U.S. Secret Service.

Paul J. Paterni, head of the Chicago Secret Service office, said the counterfeit notes were recovered in 22 states.

He said that 25 persons have been arrested since November as agents worked quietly to stamp out the counterfeiting network.

Paterni said the operation was finished off Wednesday night with the arrest of two Chicago men he termed the ringleaders.

Paterni said the gang passed about $25,000 of spurious bills successfully, but added, "We have recovered all of the money passed through department stores and other merchants."

Much of the bogus money was purchased by undercover agents in an effort to stem the flood without thwarting efforts to round up the counterfeit gang.

Paterni said three agents purchased some $700,000 in counterfeit bills at a cost of $9 for $100 bogus. In the windup of the investigation, $726,000 in fake currency was seized by raiding agents.

CHURCH YOUTH WILL GATHER

Trinity United Church of Christ's young people will act as hosts to the regional rally of the Youth Fellowship of the Gettysburg area of Mercersburg Synod on Sunday afternoon. The area director, Rev. Robert D. Myers, Fairfield, will be in charge of activities.

Registration will take place at 3 p.m. in the foyer of the Parish hall. The registrars will be Barton Olinger and Joanne Kiebling. At 3:15 p.m. the young people will assemble in the church for a brief meditation which will be followed by a business session. Games and activities will follow in the Parish hall. The young people will be guests of Trinity's Young People at a snack supper.

Vespers will follow in the church at 6 p.m. Chester Schultz and Caroline Kime will be in charge of the worship service. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, will give the meditation on the theme "Lord, Increase Our Faith."

Observing Girl Scout Week, the Girl Scout Troop No. 42 which meets each week in the Parish hall with their advisors, Mrs. Ralph Bream and Mrs. Paul Neuman, will attend the morning church service in a body. The student assistant, William R. Swisher Jr., a Senior at Gettysburg College, will be in charge of this service. The sermon will be preached by Dr. Fox. The Senior Church choir will offer special music.

Average 200 At Centenary Series

An average attendance of 200 has been maintained at the first five services of the evangelistic crusade being held in the Centenary EUB Church, Biglerville. Wednesday night Dr. Jim Mercer, evangelist from Pontiac, Mich., spoke on "Set Thine House in Order." Mrs. Basinger sang "All the Way to Calvary" and "The Stranger of Galilee." There have been 10 decisions for Christ recorded thus far.

Tonight Dr. Mercer will speak on "Who's Who in Hell." Friday night his subject will be "How to Know That You Are Saved" and on Saturday night, "The End of the World." Services on Sunday will be held at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The crusade will continue nightly through March 15.

On Saturday morning the crusade team will conduct a service over WGET at 9:30 a.m. on the weekly "Bible Meditations" broadcast. This will be the second anniversary of this religious program sponsored each week by the Centenary EUB Church of Biglerville.

East Berlin Forms Ambulance Club

Ambulance service is being made available to residents in the East Berlin community through the Liberty Fire Co. of East Berlin, which has purchased an ambulance at a cost of $5,400.

To defray operating expenses, the fire company is setting up an ambulance club and is soliciting membership at the rate of $2, which amount entitles the member and his dependents to ambulance service at no additional cost until April 1, 1960. Annual membership thereafter has been set at $2 and is not restricted to fire company members.

FIREMEN PLAN FOR CARNIVAL AUGUST 3 TO 8

Preliminary plans were discussed further for the annual carnival of Alpha Fire Company No. 1 at the March meeting of the firemen on Tuesday evening at the engine house. The carnival will be held August 3 through 8. Bernard M. Selby, general chairman of the carnival committee, appointed the following members to serve on this year's parade committee: Harry W. Badders, chairman, Jay D. Basehoar, Bernard G. Kebil, Monroe G. Morelock, Robert C. Koontz and Bernard M. Selby.

President Clair J. Redding presided for the session, which opened with the pledge of allegiance, the Lord's Prayer and the report of Secretary Harry W. Badders. The social committee report was given by Jack E. Rebert. Bernard Selby of the committee appointed to secure information and prices on the installation of a permanent transformer on the playground for carnival usage, reported facts and figures secured from the Metropolitan Edison Company, and the Alpha members voted their approval for a permanent transformer installation instead of erecting one each year just for the carnival and removing it when the event is over.

Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler noted that there were seven fires calls during the month with a total damage of $450. Drill Captain Bernard G. Kebil noted that two invitations had been received to date for parade participation and also that plans are being made for the initial get-together and practice of the drill team. The invitations are from Shippensburg and Emmaus parades.

Donation Returned
President Redding appointed a social committee to serve for the next quarter, to include Fred A. Miller, Clark Fuhrman and Robert B. Millheim. Chief nozzlemaster Richard Stuller appointed Jack Rebert as his assistant for the year and Pipe Foreman James P. Hahn appointed Fred Miller as his assistant. Nominations for membership included Dewey Baumgardner and John R. Rudick Jr. The president appointed Carl Wantz, Glenn Ohler and James Hahn as the investigating committee for the candidates.

Bills were ordered paid amounting to $158.84 and receipts totaled $145.48. Of this amount, donations for services rendered were received from Elmer Stonesifer, Orville C. Sentz and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Deatrick. The donations of $25 from Christ United Church of Christ for services rendered was returned with a request that the amount be added to the church's building fund.

It was announced that the second quarterly meeting of the Adams County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held on Monday, April 6, 8 p.m. at the new fire hall in Bonneauville. A communication from State Representative Francis Worley stated that he has started the wheels turning with the presentation of petitions, toward having all fire companies in the state of Pennsylvania exempted from the present sales and use tax and he hopes to have this accomplished during the current session of the state legislature.

At the conclusion of the business, refreshments were served to the 56 members in attendance by Glenn E. Ohler, Kenneth Shandbrook and Clyde E. Harner. The firemen will meet again on Tuesday, April 7, at 8 p.m.

W. Culp Jr., accompanied by the two men, took Brown into custody near the W. T. Grant store on Chambersburg St.

They found Mrs. Schmitz' dress, unwrapped by this time, in the shopping bag which police said Brown had obtained from the Red Cross along with a donation of some articles.

Also in the bag was a key, which they found belonged to a lock box at the bus station. When they asked Brown what was in the lock box he told them his satchel with shaving equipment, clothing and an antique gun.

Said Gun Given Him

The officers investigated and found the gun to be the .31 caliber six-shot Colt revolver, with a stage coach robbery engraved on the cylinder, which had been stolen from former Sheriff Schultz. They found on Brown's person keys to the Steinberger apartment.

Brown told the officers that he had been in company with another man who was staying at the "hobo haven" and that the other man had given him the gun to keep for him while he was "away."

Denies Guilt

Concerning the keys, Brown said he and "the other man" were walking on N. Washington St. near the Farm Bureau office and the other man had kicked an envelope lying on the sidewalk. Brown said he picked up the envelope and found therein the keys which were marked with the name and address of the Steinbergers. Brown said he had gone to the Gilliland apartments Wednesday morning to return the keys to the Steinbergers but found no one at home. The Steinberger apartment was burglarized about a week ago, when several watches and the keys in an envelope were stolen.

Brown admitted to police he had been arrested for burglary and larceny previously in Baltimore, but said he had nothing to do with the Schultz, Sherman and Steinberger burglaries here.

CHOIR TO SING

music from Northwestern University.

The varied religious music program includes "O Church of Christ, Count Well Your Charge," by D. R. Frederick, written in commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the Church of the Brethren, as well as music by Cruikshank, Will James, Beethoven, Sir John Stainer and others.

Cloister Anthem

The choir, which sings accompanied and a cappella, will also sing a special arrangement of a seven-part anthem from the Ephrata Cloister, entitled "God Is Great," by the American composer, Joseph W. Clokey.

The 60th anniversary of the founding of Elizabethtown College is being commemorated in the choir's tour of southeastern Pennsylvania churches this season.

Included will be a group of numbers by the college men's quartet, Wilbur Gible, Charles Weaver, Halbleib and Dale Kilhefer.

Goldstone expected to lose the signal again about 4:20 p.m. as the Pioneer passes below the horizon.

By that time the cone, now a minor asteroid of the sun, would be another 35,000 miles out.

At 4:20 p.m. today Pioneer IV will have been followed by tracking stations for 64 hours. The Soviets claimed 65 hours for their Mecha space traveler which they say has been in a sun orbit for weeks.

Goldstone expected to get the signals again at 7:30 a.m. Friday, from a distance close to the estimated 400,000 mile outer range of Pioneer IV's radio. That would be longer than any other space probe has ever been tracked.

Sweetbreads need to be simmered for only 20 minutes or so; then they may be placed in cold water to firm before the outer skin and membrane are removed.

At Least 2 Lose Lives In Gary Hotel, Hazleton, Fire

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Fire swept up the elevator shaft of the five-story Gary Hotel here early today, sending guests leaping from windows, sliding down wires and climbing down fire ladders. Police and fire authorities reported at least 2 dead, 2 critically injured and 24 others taken to hospitals for treatment of burns, cuts, smoke inhalation and shock.

It was feared that five or six guests, of the estimated 40 to 50 registered at the 100-room, 75-year-old dwelling in the heart of Hazleton's business district, may have been trapped in the inferno.

Victims fled from the flaming building, their night clothes ablaze. Others stood and sat dazed in the street as 100 firemen from four companies fought the raging fire for more than two hours.

Ice Hampers Work

Efforts to control the blaze were hampered by icy streets and ice coated hoses resulting from the biting 23 degree weather.

Flames shot from the windows and burst through the roof of the brick building as firemen arrived. Residents stood at windows on the upper floors screaming for help. Two of these were George Klem, 22, and his wife, Beverly, 18.

The Klems waited 20 minutes for help at the window of their fourth floor, rear apartment. Finally, in desperation, Mrs. Klem grabbed a television cable and slid to a pole from where she was able to swing to the roof of an adjoining 1½ story building. Her husband followed by the same route. Both suffered lacerations of the hands.

Red Premier Says Be May Postpone Berlin Deadline

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he is prepared to postpone the May 27 deadline on Berlin—provided fruitful East-West negotiations are under way then.

Khrushchev said the May 27 date might be postponed until June 27 "or maybe July 27. We are in no hurry."

He cited an old Russian saying: "Never count your chickens until autumn."

The Soviet Premier made his remarks in an impromptu speech at a luncheon given by the mayor of Leipzig.

The question was brought up by Ian Mikardo, member of the British House of Commons and a deputy chairman of the British Labor party.

Mikardo asked Khrushchev what he meant to do about the May 27 deadline.

Khrushchev noted that the West has been calling the May 27 deadline an ultimatum.

"That is not true," Khrushchev said.

Then came his remarks about a postscript.

He said again that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Troop 42 met Wednesday at the United Church of Christ. There was a discussion on good grooming in connection with 1st class rank. The "Good Manners Raccoon" was named. Mrs. Allen Weikert collected cookie money.

Leaders in charge of the troop were Mrs. Paul Newman and Mrs. Ralph Bream. Senior aide Sallie McCullough was absent because of illness.

Fairfield Girl Scout Troop 33 met at the Scout room Monday evening and worked on materials for the window to be decorated in observance of Girl Scout Week. The display will be placed Saturday morning. Rehearsals were held for the skit to be presented at the Juliette Low rally. The meeting closed with the friendship circle. A special meeting of the troop was held Tuesday evening to complete the window display and to practice for the skit.

Announce Lumber Grading Course

The annual lumber grading short course of Pennsylvania State University will be held March 16-20, reports Assistant County Agent John D. Naugle.

The course consists of interpretation of hardwood rules, inspection, miscut, thickness, lengths, measurement, and tally of lumber, clear face and sound cuttings, standard defects, applying rules, exceptions to standard grades, etc.

Several days of the course will be spent at nearby mills for actual grading and management work.

Naugle can supply application blanks and more information, or persons interested may write Director of Short Courses, College of Agriculture, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa.

Kidnaped Babe Found By FBI; Was Well Cared For

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—A kidnaped infant was found safe Wednesday night in the arms of a chunky, 37-year-old woman who admitted taking him from his crib while she was baby-sitting five days ago.

Betty Jean Yocom retreated to the bathroom of her darkened home 10 miles from Ontario when she heard FBI agents kicking in the door. Hugged to her bosom was 9-week-old Eric Leon Flores.

In a bedroom the agents found a brand new bassinet and bottle sterilizer and other indications that Mrs. Yocom had lavished a frustrated maternal love on another woman's child.

Well Cared For

The baby, ill with a cold when he was taken from beside his sleeping twin brother last Friday, appeared to have been well cared for, the FBI said.

The baby was reunited with his mother, Ruth Flores, 35, widowed mother of six, at the Ontario police station.

Mrs. Flores and the friendly woman she had allowed to sit with her children, faced each other tearfully.

They had first met last Feb. 17 when Mrs. Yocom, calling herself Ann Williams and identifying herself as a social worker from a local church, called on Mrs. Flores to offer any help that might be needed. Mrs. Flores' husband, Joseph, was killed in a gas explosion last summer and the community of Ontario has contributed food, clothing and needed services to the family ever since.

Baby's Cries Heard

Mrs. Yocom, who is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs about 180 pounds, offered to take care of the Flores children. She telephoned the next day and repeated the offer. Last Friday she called at the house again and this time Mrs. Flores agreed to go out with a friend for a few hours, leaving Mrs. Yocom with the children, who range in age from 8 to the infant twins.

When Mrs. Flores returned, one of the twins was gone.

In the end it was the baby himself who led to the capture of Mrs. Yocom. His loud wails made a neighbor suspicious. The FBI was notified.

Report To Lions At York Springs

Progress on planning for several future events was reported by committee chairman to the York Springs Lions Club which met recently in the York Springs Scout cabin. President John B. Breighner conducted the meeting.

Jack Hershey and Charles Renicker reported on the ham supper which the club is sponsoring and which will be held Saturday evening, March 21, in the fire house.

James Behney reported that plans are being made for the club's 20th anniversary celebration which will be held April 7 in the York Springs Elementary School cafeteria. The Dillsburg Lions Club, which sponsored the York Springs club at the time of its organization, will be guests.

President Breighner reported that the annual Easter egg hunt will be held on the school campus and that the Bermudian Springs band will present a concert. Lynn Golden reported progress in efforts to secure leadership for the local Scout troop.

The Rev. Amos Meyers spoke to the club on the proposed new building for the Bermudian Springs High School.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Lions Club Is Organized At York Springs: M. S. Hershey, manager of the York Springs five and ten cent store, was elected president of the York Springs Lions Club which was formed at a meeting Wednesday evening in the Mary Jane Inn when members of the Dillsburg and Boiling Springs clubs met for a joint session.

Deputy District Governor G. N. Waters, Gettysburg, has directed the formation of the new club.

Other officers named by the York Springs group which already includes 16 members follow: First vice president, N. D. Stary; second vice president, Ross Koons; third vice president, William M. Lott; directors, Roy M. Stary, Romaine Pittenturf, Charles L. Boyer and F. E. Coulson; secretary, George Inksp; lion tamer, Walter Wolf, and chairman of the reception committee, C. F. Ditzler.

Cardinal Pacelli Elected 262nd Pope Of Catholics: To Take Name Of Pius XII: Vatican City, March 2 (AP) — Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli today was elected 262nd pope.

The new pontiff, papal secretary of state under Pope Pius XII succeeded to the throne of St. Peter on his 63rd birthday anniversary. He will take the name of Pius XII.

Start Work On Parish House: Masons began work Tuesday on the new parish house for Mount Joy Lutheran church being erected by the congregation near the church. The excavation for the foundation was completed last week.

The building will measure 66 x 30 feet. The first story is to be constructed of concrete block and the second will be weather-boarded and covered with imitation brick shingles. The complete building is expected to cost about $2,500.

February Warmer Than Normal: Half Inch Of Snowfall During Month: Although Gettysburg experienced nearly all types of weather during last month, summaries of Gettysburg weather station records show that on the average each day last month was six degrees warmer than normal and that the February rainfall was about 67 per cent above the normal record.

Records of Dr. Henry Stewart, official local weather observer showed that a nine-year record was set on February 20 by a reading of 71 degrees on that day while three days later one of the lowest readings of the winter was recorded when the mercury dropped to 12 degrees above zero.

Carlton Nau Passes Washington Bar Exam: Carlton Leroy Nau, formerly of Gettysburg, was one of the 231 candidates who passed the December examination for admittance to the District of Columbia bar according to an announcement from Washington D. C.

He is first assistant manager of the rural electrification administration at Washington.

Menges Heads Local Lodge: Raymond E. Menges, West Middle street, was elected chief patriarch of Union Encampment No. 126 of the I.O.O.F. at the regular semi-annual election which was conducted Wednesday evening in the lodge rooms. He succeeds Crosby Hartzell.

New Officers Of B. And P. Club Are Installed: The March meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held at the Y.W.C.A. building on Thursday evening with a Lion and Lamb supper at 8 o'clock. Forty-one members and guests attended.

Mrs. W. H. Danforth, president of the Y.W.C.A. board, installed the new officers at the business meeting which followed. Miss Esther Tipton, vice president, took the place of the retiring president, Miss Elizabeth Woods.

Today's Talk

DISCOVERING PEOPLE

For a large part of my life I have tried to be alert in the discovering of unique men and women who had something of themselves to give to the world. That has been the joy of my life in the conducting of a service to newspapers. I have distributed the work of poets (Eddie Guest and Walt Mason) and the unique output of "Abe Martin," Bob Ripley, Dr. Frank Crane, William Lyon Phelps (the noted Yale teacher known by all as "Billy"), Lee Pape's "Little Benny" and a score and more of people whom I have discovered and put into circulation.

I have gone further, however, in the discovery of interesting friends, and in the meeting of writers and artists who have been an inspiration to me for many years. These years of mine have been pleasant and thrilling ones, for they have kept me close to people of wide tastes and from all I could learn something of profit.

I like people, for they reveal to me my faults as well as what there is of good in me. When I meet a person, whom I believe to be a possible friend, I waste no time in coming to terms, for genuine friends are scarce! Just as we have a savings account from our earnings, so should we have a savings account of friends — and an account that should be kept growing all the time.

A new friend is an event worth celebrating. I pride myself in this collection of interesting people. I cannot think of a single friend I have lost whom I wanted to keep. A new friend is such a joy! In my experience I have learned that it is easy to meet great men and women. That's why they are great. Our friendships should be watered the same as a garden, and we should keep our friendships in perfect repair!

HE'S A LONELY DAD

Before the baby came we went
To theaters and dances too,
And wife was always glad to share

In everything I wished to do,
But now my little rival's here,
Somewhat it seems apart we've grown;

And when there's anywhere to go,
She wishes I would go alone.

"I'd not enjoy myself," she says,
"If I should go with you tonight."

You know the little one might cry,
And leaving him would not be right.

I'd worried be the whole night long,
I'd think that I could hear him moan;

So, after all, I think, perhaps,
Tonight you'd better go alone."

I'll not complain; that seems to be,
From what I've seen, a mother's way,

And entertainments lose their charm
When strangers with the baby stay.

I wonder if we ever think
Of mothers, when we're older grown,
Who stayed at home to care for us

While fathers had to go alone?

THE MOST EFFECTIVE FORCE IN THE WORLD—LOVE

By Prof. Pitrim Sorokin
Head of Harvard University
Research Center in Creative Altruism

I have lived through two of the harshest periods in history. One was the period before Revolution in Russia; the others was the era after the Revolution, when men lived with hatred.

Would it seem strange if I said that the thing I remember most about those days was love? But that would be the truth.

I was born in a little village in northern Russia at about the turn of the century. My father was an itinerant painter who gilded the icons in the simple Russian Orthodox churches of the area. His work required him to be away from home most of the time.

Mother was too frail for the rigors of the life we were forced to lead. One December morning she lay down and couldn't get up again; she died. I was four years old at that time. When Mother died, my peasant aunt came to me and said:

"Come. You can live in our home, if you like. You will be welcome."

Saved From Death
Her scant, larder and her hearth were opened to me at a time when she did not have enough for herself.

It was miraculous what this woman could do with love alone. When I was 11 years old, I was caught miles from home in one of Russia's winter blizzards and by the time I reached my aunt's hut, pneumonia raged in me so fiercely I could not stand.

Pneumonia in those days was almost always fatal. And yet my aunt set to work to try to pull me through. She worked day and night, sitting beside my bed, praying and wiping the perspiration from my brow.

And I got well.
How had my aunt pulled me through? It was with love alone, for she had nothing else to work with.

Holes In Boots
Some time later I experienced the power of love in an even stranger place. I began to attend school in a nearby village. I walked to the school through the snow, my toes showing through the holes in my boots.

The teacher was a gaunt young man. I was a stranger to him, the son of a traveling painter who would disappear one morning as suddenly as he had come. But the teacher looked at my town shoes and without a word went to the closet and took out his second pair of boots.

"But you," I said. "What will you wear?"
"Keep them," he said. "Why should I have two pairs when you have none?" Love, stronger than the cold of a Russian winter is a force to reckon with.

A Virile Hatred
And then the Revolution came, and a virile hatred was turned loose in Russia. One night a Communist order went out for my arrest and my head (with a price for it), I fled.

It was death for anyone who concealed me. Yet I was hidden and fed by several peasants who took this risk for me. I was a total stranger to them. Yet, time after time they took me in simply because I was cold and ragged, and because I asked it of them.

Shortly after the Revolution I was married, at a time when food was heartbreakingly scarce. Part of the time, my wife and I were allowed a daily ration of 1.16 pound of "bad bread" between us.

We were always hungry, and yet how closely I had to watch my wife! When time came each day to divide our morsel of bad bread, she would try to cut it unevenly, to slip me the larger piece. Unless you yourself have known hunger, you cannot imagine the enormity of this sacrifice.

A Force From God
Why did my friends so often turn to love in the middle of their deepest troubles? I think each of them sensed the profound nature of love as a force that came from God; I think they sensed that when they brought love into their lives, they brought God in also. Love acted as an antidote. Its force created little islands of health amid great sickness.

It is this that gives me hope for today. We live in another era of violence and hate, yet, because I have lived in a similar time, my hopes are high.

Some day — perhaps soon — mankind will learn what individuals have always known: that love is the only truly creative force in the world.

ACCUSED UNION LEADER LIFTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas Kennedy, international vice president of the United Mine Workers Union, said Wednesday Dominic J. Alaimo, of Pittston, Pa., will be removed from the pit committee of Local 8006 pending outcome of his trial on a federal indictment charging he accepted $30,755.21 from the Knox Coal Co.

Justice Department officials said Alaimo was instrumental in securing a "sweetheart contract" between his local and the Knox firm. This term is used to describe a contract which is more favorable to management than to the employees.

Officials at UMW headquarters said, however, they doubted that this was the case since the overall agreement between the union and the anthracite industry prohibits less favorable contract language in locally negotiated pacts.

They said that if Alaimo received the alleged payments it was for failing to process grievances of employees against the company or failure to insist on payment of premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work as required by the standard UMW labor contract.

Alaimo was said by the Justice Department to be among the 60 men who attended a reputed gangland convention at Apalachin, N. Y., Nov. 14, 1957. At that time the union sought Alaimo's resignation and was under the impression he had quit only to learn recently he actually never had resigned.

Snowstorms, Strong Winds, Cold Slash U.S. Midlands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A major winter storm pounded the nation's midlands today with snow, cold and strong winds.

The snow storm, moving rapidly after lashing wide areas in Colorado and Wyoming, showed no letup as it spread east and southward.

The snow belt stretched from northwest Kansas through eastern South Dakota, across Iowa and extreme northern Missouri and headed into northern sections of Illinois and Indiana. Heaviest falls from 6 to 8 inches, were from eastern Nebraska through north-west Iowa.

Hazardous Driving
Winds of 20 to 30 m.p.h. blew the fresh snow into huge drifts in many areas and created hazardous driving conditions.

South of the snow belt, rain and some hail pelted wide areas through southeast Kansas, most Missouri into eastern Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. Violent storms were indicated in some southern sections. Rainfall measured from one to two inches.

Damaging thunderstorms struck the Dallas-Fort Worth area Wednesday night. Wind gusts up to 66 m.p.h. smashed dozens of plate glass windows in Fort Worth. Ten airplanes were damaged when a hangar at a private air field was blown down.

Mercury Near Zero
Temperatures were near zero in the extreme northern Great Lakes region. But they rose rapidly to the 20s in the southern Great Lakes and westward across the Dakotas and Nebraska into the Rockies. In the higher elevations of the Rockies readings were below zero. It was -12 at Fraser, Colo.

Temperatures east of the cold air were mostly in the 40s and 50s except for the 30s in the northern sections of the Ohio Valley and the north Atlantic coast states.

2 PENN STATE MEN WILL VIE FOR EIC HONOR

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two outstanding Penn State gymnasts, Armando Vega and Jay Werner, figure to fight for top honors in the Eastern Intercollegiate championships Friday and Saturday at the Pitt fieldhouse.

The two stars of Penn State's team, undefeated in six matches in the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League, head a list of approximately 90 entries from 11 schools.

Individual champions will be decided in the Olympic All-Around Event plus the six standard events: Tumbling side horse, horizontal bar, rope climb, parallel bars and flying rings.

Schools entered besides Penn State are Pitt, Army, Navy, Temple, Syracuse, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Springfield, Mass., West Chester and Brockport.

Olympic Competition
The olympic competition, which includes free exercise, long horse, side horse, still rings, horizontal bar and parallel bars, shapes up as a duel between Vega and Werner.

Werner is the defending champion. Vega captured both the Eastern and NCAA All-Around titles in 1957.

Here's how the standard competition shapes up:
Tumbling—Close battle expected among Penn State's Dave Dulaney, the defending titlist, and Pitt's Dave Hirst and Don Need.

Side Horse—Navy's Skip Shepard favored to retain his championship.

Horizontal bar—Vega and Lee Cunningham of Penn State co-favored.

Rope climb—Bill Cohen of Army and Don Neuhouser of Penn State both capable of climbing the 20 feet in 3.5 seconds.

INCREASE IN U. S. DEFENSE STEPS IS SEEN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase in U.S. and Allied defense measures is foreseen by officials who predict tensions will mount over the next few months between the Soviet Union and the Western powers.

In spite of moves on both sides toward negotiation, Washington authorities are confident that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev intends to put on much more pressure to get the Western powers out of Berlin.

They expect a period of extreme tension and war threats in the late spring or early summer and say privately the Western Allies must be in position to handle that kind of situation.

May Call Reserves

One possible move reported under consideration at high levels of the government is a calling up of some military reserve units.

The range of measures which may be taken here and in Europe in preparation for a showdown is one of the subjects likely to be discussed this month by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. A variety of other subjects bearing on negotiations with the U.S.S.R. also will come up when Macmillan comes here in mid-March.

Indications of advance planning to meet the predicted emergency came from President Eisenhower at his news conference Wednesday.

"Satisfactory" Now

At one point he said that there probably will be a need for a stepped up air alert "if this situation develops along the lines that it appears to be going." This was a reference to the operation of the Strategic Air Command.

But Eisenhower said he considers satisfactory "for the present moment" the ground alert system now in effect. Under this system, planes and crews are kept in a state of readiness to take off in 15 minutes.

The President did not, however, rule out steps short of general mobilization should the situation now progressively more serious.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The heavyweight championship dreams and claims of Nino Valdes and his slightly articulate manager, Bobby Gleason, are in the nightmare class today.

The massive Cuban was thoroughly beaten and eventually knocked out at the Miami Beach Auditorium Wednesday night by a 4-1 underdog, Charley Powell of San Diego, Calif.

Gleason had claimed Valdes was the real champion. He belittled Floyd Patterson's title.

MAGICIANS PUT ON GOOD SHOW FOR BIG CROWD

A tremendous show of basketball ability interwoven with a bit of clowning was offered to an overflow crowd at Eddie Plank Memorial Gym, Wednesday evening as the Harlem Magicians defeated the Boston Shamrocks 70-60. The game was sponsored by the Harold H. Blair Post 14, American Legion, Hanover, for the benefit of a junior legion athletic field.

The more than 1,100 fans who attended the game were thrilled with the set shooting and trick passing of Josh Grider, 6'3 coach for the Magicians. The humorous antics of Sam "Boom" Wheeler were highly enjoyable for old and young alike. Many of the coaches in the area were particularly amused with the way the Harlem Magicians executed a fast weave, tricky passes and a lay-up in the open.

Although Boston came out on the short end of the score, Eugene "Easy" Johnson, Bob Atkinson and Norris Sharp put on a fine exhibition of outside shooting and lay-ups.

"Juggling Joe" Taylor, who is claimed to be the "greatest comedy juggler in the world," provided the half time entertainment.

A great disappointment to all who had attended the game was the absence of Marques Haynes, regarded by many experts as the world's finest dribbler. Haynes was a star for many years on the Globetrotters.

Bob Pettit goes after his greatest single season conquest of the National Basketball Assn. record book tonight in Philadelphia.

When the St. Louis Hawks' star faces the Philadelphia Warriors in the second game of a doubleheader he will need only 18 points to break George Yardley's record of 2,001 points in a single season.

Yardley, playing with Detroit, set his record last year.

Pettit scored 32 Wednesday night as the Hawks were dumped 127-97 by the Detroit Pistons. But in warming up for tonight's job, the former Louisiana State All America set two NBA records. His 10 field goals gives him 690, one more than Clyde Lovellette's 1957-58 total at Cincinnati. He has scored 823 foul throws this year, getting 15 against Minneapolis to top Yardley's mark of 808.

40-Point Lead
Detroit opened a 40-point lead in the third quarter to hand the Western division leaders their worst defeat of the year. Rookie Shellie McMillon paced Detroit with 23 points.

The Boston Celtics take a stab at the record book tonight against Syracuse. Their 120-114 victory over the Nats Wednesday night gave them 51 for the year, tying the record set in 1951 by Syracuse, Minneapolis and Rochester.

New York clinched second place in the Eastern division, defeating Philadelphia, 118-115, and Jack Twyman scored 46 points as Cincinnati knocked off Minneapolis, 128-122.

Shenandoah Downs Nears Completion

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — William D. Poland, secretary of the West Virginia Racing Commission, last week made a periodic check up on construction progress at $3,000,000 Shenandoah Downs.

The track, which will introduce night running races in this area, has been awarded 104 nights for 1959 by the West Virginia Commission. Its first meet will open May 1 and run through July 11. The second will run from September 14 through October 31.

"We are pleased with the progress at Shenandoah Downs and are looking forward to the May 1 opening," Poland said. The secretary found barns, grandstand, lighting, racing strip, parking area, railroad sidings and paddock in place. Only the clubhouse remains to be completed.

Poland said he sees "no problems in completing the clubhouse and winding up other minor constructions by May 1."

SEES HIGHER TAXATION TO RETAIN PHILS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia may have to ante up to three million dollars in extra taxes to keep the Philadelphia Phillies in town. But Mayor Richardson Dilworth doesn't think New Jersey can come up with a better offer.

The mayor said Wednesday that there is little chance of raising the funds to build a new stadium on a self-supporting basis.

He added it is finally agreed the park must be financed by public support, it probably will mean Philadelphia will be asked to vote on two questions—the two or three million dollar loan to be paid off in taxes, and an eight million dollar bond issue.

Dilworth also disclosed for the first time Wednesday that the Phillies have proosed annual rental of about $300,000 for the stadium.

Bob Carpenter, owner of the Phillies, has said the offer was final and that it was the same figure offered to a group in Camden County, New Jersey, across the Delaware River, where an authority has been set up to erect a stadium for the Phillies.

The total cost of the stadium to be built in South Philadelphia has been set at 10 or 11 million dollars but originally it was thought that public bonds totalling eight millions were all that the city would be obliged to put up. The remainder, it was thought, would come from private investment sources.

NEWCOMBE IS LOOKING AHEAD TO GOOD YEAR

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Memo to Buzzie Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers:
Don Newcombe had a winless record with the Dodgers last year not because he was lazy and wasn't trying. He actually suffered from a pulled back muscle, just as he claimed.

Wayne Anderson, trainer of the Cincinnati Reds, the club to which the big pitcher was traded, attests to that.

Traded To Reds
"There's no question about it," Anderson vouched. "The longitudinal cord which extends across the shoulders was affected. I recognized the symptoms the first time I examined him. I just busted it down with therapy and massages and heat treatments did the rest."

Newcombe, baseball's outstanding pitcher only three years ago, was only a shadow of his former self in 1958. After losing all seven decisions, he was traded by the Dodgers to the Reds 45 minutes before the June 15 deadline. It took Newcombe a long time to get over the shock.

Expects Big Year
"I told them I had a torn muscle," said big Newk, "but I don't think they believed me." Newcombe won his first start for the Reds, 6-1 against St. Louis. He finished with a 7-6 Cincinnati record.

"I enjoyed pitching for the Reds," he said. "My arm is fine now and I expect to have a big year under Mayo Smith."

CARRASQUEL IN BUT 2 ORIOLES STILL MISSING

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
One temperamental Latin would seem to be all that Paul Richards, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, needs to keep his mind occupied these days. But Richards has three, and two of them are still absent from the Orioles' training camp in Miami.

Chico Carrasquel, the Venezuelan shortstop, did manage to make camp six days late. He blamed it on "visa trouble." Carrasquel was traded to Baltimore by Kansas City last fall after six years at Chicago and Cleveland.

Willie Miranda, who has been the Baltimore shortstop since 1955, and Bob Avila, the second sacker who was acquired from Cleveland last December, are missing — whereabouts unknown.

Lots Of Visa Trouble
Miranda may not have been the inventor of the "visa trouble" excuse, but he's probably used it more than any other absentee. He has signed his 1959 contract, and presumably is in Cuba.

Avila, the team's only holdout, was thought to be at home in Vera Cruz, Mexico. Roberto was in Havana last month — perhaps getting a fill-in on the Orioles from Senor Miranda. At that time, Avila said he was considering quitting baseball.

Bob Lemon, who won 20 or more games for Cleveland in seven seasons, gave up his comeback ambitions and signed with the Indians as a scout-coach. He pitched part of 1958 for San Diego but was handicapped by arm trouble.

Philly Agrees
Outfielder Bob Cerv finally signed with the Kansas City Athletics for an estimated $32,000. He had his first workout Wednesday at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dave Philly agreed to terms with the Philadelphia Phillies. The outfielder was barred from a morning workout at the Phillies' camp in Clearwater, Fla., but later signed his contract. Terms were not announced.

Another Cuban pitcher, Pedro Ramos, arrived at the Washington Senators' Orlando, Fla., camp and signed his contract.

TO CROWN NEW NAIA CHAMP

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. (AP) — A new District 30 (Pennsylvania) NAIA basketball champion will be crowned tonight after Mansfield State Teachers College meets Westminster.

Mansfield dethroned defending champion Indiana State Teachers 99-66 Wednesday night in a first round game. Mansfield jumped off to an early lead and then coasted the rest of the way for the victory.

Dick DiBasso sparked the Mansfield attack with 25 points. Jamie Kimbrough led Indiana with 16 points.

In the second game of the doubleheader, Westminster walloped Geneva 64-46.

Westminster's Ron Galbreath put the game out of reach by scoring six straight points in the second half to give the Titans a 41-33 lead. Geneva never recovered.

Chuck Davis of Westminster took game scoring honors with 22 points. Don Schena was high for Geneva with 14 points.

Phillies Will Pay $300,000 Rent

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, considering a new stadium site either in South Philadelphia or nearby New Jersey, are reported willing to pay about $300,000 in annual rent.

If the club draws more than a million fans the rent would be higher, percentage-wise.

Source of the rent figure was not disclosed but a spokesman for Mayor Richardson Dilworth said it was "approximately correct."

The reported $300,000 figure is rental only and does not include income from parking, concessions and other factors.

Dilworth has indicated more money could be realized by negotiations on these income sources.

Abe Attell, 75, Stricken In Cafe

NEW YORK (AP) — Abe Attell, former world featherweight champion and a member of Boxing's Hall of Fame, collapsed in a restaurant Wednesday night, but he still talked like a champ from a hospital bed.

"I'm all right," he said. "I've got a touch of the flu, but I'll be out of here by tomorrow. Why son, I expect to live to be 100."

South Penn Track Meet On Bullet Field May 9; Officers Are Elected

Gettysburg College's Memorial Field will be the site for the annual South Penn Conference track and field meet on Saturday, May 9, it was decided at a meeting of conference officials Wednesday at the Molly Pitcher Hotel, Carlisle. The meet was also held there last year.

Ken Millen, Carlisle, was named as the referee for the affair.

Ray W. Gray, Hanover, was elected president to succeed Prof. Guile W. Lefever, Gettysburg. Charles Yost, Biglerville, was chosen vice president, and R. H. Brubaker, Hanover, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Trophies, emblematic of basketball championships won during the past season, were presented to Carlisle whose varsity swept through an unbeaten season, and Hanover who won the junior varsity title.

Ban Signs, Etc.
In special action the conference forbade the use of signs, other than regular band banners, and noisemakers, at all future indoor events sanctioned by the conference.

NAB SAXTON FOR BURGLARY

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Saxton, who earned a quarter of a million dollars as world's welterweight champion, has been arrested in a burglary which netted $5,200 in cash.

Spotted Wednesday night on a fire escape of a Jamaica, Queens, apartment house, the onetime Negro ring ace was captured by police, but not before he put up a battle.

He was charged with burglary and held for a hearing.

Saxton, 28, lost his title in 1956. He told police all the money he made in his 10-year professional career was gone, and that he owes $16,000 in back taxes.

"I'm not working. I needed money. I'm spending most of my time up in Harlem training young fighters," he said.

Police said Saxton tossed a small valise into a clump of bushes. In it was $5,200, a fur cape, and a pack of cigarettes. The cape and bag were identified by Adelaide Farrell, 55, a sixth-floor tenant.

Carlisle Dominates 1959 South Penn Cage Choices; Crist, Furney Mentioned

Carlisle High School, undefeated South Penn Basketball League champion, dominates the selections for the 1959 All-Star League squads made by the South Penn Sportswriters' and Sportscasters' Association and team coaches.

Mike Washington, the league's top scorer from the second straight year, and Dick Eckert were named to the first team. Paul Sollenberger was a second team selection. Washington is the only repeater from last year.

Two Gettysburg High School cagers gained honorable mention, Honorary Captain Tommy Crist and Bob Furney.

A total of 20 ballots were cast with coaches selecting one all-opponent team each while members of the association picked first and second teams, five votes being given for first team choices and three for the second team. Two Unanimous Picks

Washington and Tuck Shade, Waynesboro, polled the maximum number of votes with 95 each and thereby become honorary captains of the squad. Shade was the third high scorer in the league this season.

Completing the all-senior first team squad are Gary Ampacher, Hanover, and Brian Jacobs, Chambersburg.

CONNECTICUT NAILS ITS 10TH YANKEE TITLE

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Connecticut Yankees are in the NCAA basketball tournament and, late today the Confederate Yankees begin their bid to try to join them.

Connecticut nailed its 10th straight Yankee Conference title and an NCAA berth Wednesday night with an 87-63 romp over Rhode Island. That put the Uconnis in a first round tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden next Tuesday among a sextet of Frank McGuire's Northern-bred North Carolina Tar Heels.

Connecticut began their bid to try to join them.

North Carolina, the NCAA champ two years ago with an unbeaten team, tied for the regular ACC lead with North Carolina State. By the flip of a coin, State is top-seeded in the eight-team tournament at Raleigh with North Carolina No. 2.

Not Country Crows
Should they meet in the finals, North Carolina is assured of the NCAA nomination since N.C. State is on probation. But the way the ACC functions, no one is ready to start counting crows before they are polished.

First round games matched Duke with Wake Forest, North Carolina with Clemson, N.C. State with South Carolina, and Maryland with Virginia. Saturday night at the latest, the ACC will know the team that goes against large nominee Navy in the wind-up of the New York NCAA tripleheader.

Connecticut will face an at-large team still to be named by the Eastern NCAA section committee in the opener of the tripleheader.

Foe Not Picked
West Virginia's Southern Conference champs will play the Ivy League champion in the middle game. Their foe could have been decided Wednesday night but wasn't when Dartmouth and Princeton ended their regular seasons tied for first place with 13-1 records.

Dartmouth, a 74-63 winner over Brown, will meet Princeton, a 61-60 winner over Penn, in a chips-down playoff at neutral New Haven, Conn. Saturday night. The co-leaders split their two regular season Ivy games — each winning at home.

Add More Victories
Tournament teams Marquette, St. Joseph's (Pa) and Fordham added victories in other games on a schedule concentrated in the East. Marquette, an at-large choice for the NCAA, made it 22-3 with a revenge 82-69 victory over DePaul, another NCAA at-large choice. In their first meeting, DePaul snapped Marquette's 15-game winning streak.

St. Joseph's, winner of the Middle-Atlantic conference's NCAA berth, rolled to its 11th straight for a 21-3 record, 85-63 over Lehigh.

NIT-bound Fordham (17-6) downed Queens (NY) 88-71. Syracuse—a darkhorse contender for the one remaining NCAA at-large nomination—won its sixth straight 67-65 over Niagara.

STRICKEN MAN BOWLS AGAIN
ST. LOUIS (AP) — They won't be expecting any spectacular scores from him, but the crowd is sure to give a roaring welcome to Joe Wilman when he competes in the American Bowling Congress Tournament here tonight.

The balding little Berwyn, Ill., pro, who has won virtually every tenpin title of significance, suffered a heart attack as he rolled his ABC singles event last year in Syracuse, N. Y.

Last fall Wilman began bowling again and finally convinced his doctor he could withstand the strain of league bowling early this year.

The 53-year-old member of Bowling's Hall of Fame will roll with the Knoll Hamm's team of Chicago.

Wednesday's highlights included fourth place moves in the singles and open team divisions. The Park Bowl of Sioux City assembled a 3046 series in the open division on games of 1045, 1022 and 979 to make their dent in the standings. Bob Moser of St. Louis used a 226-256-222-704 series to propel himself into the big money in the individual section.

There were no other significant standings changes.

Bullets Jolted 58-57 At F. And M. In Final; Freshmen Capture 17th

A hook shot by Bob Swetnam, F. and M.'s star southpaw, in the last 30 seconds of play gave the Diplomats a 58-57 decision over the Gettysburg Bullets Wednesday evening at Lancaster in the final game of the season for Coach Bob Hulston's outfit.

It was a particularly bitter defeat for the Bullets who led almost from start to finish.

Gettysburg lost a chance to win in the closing seconds on an in-bounds pass which was fumbled out-of-bounds.

After the score was tied at 6-6 early in the game the Bullets took command behind the scoring of Del Warfield and Walt McGowan. They led 29-19 late in the first half but their lead was slashed to 31-25 at intermission.

Gettysburg slowly built up a lead in the second half and had a 12-point advantage at 50-38 with seven minutes remaining and 51-40 with six minutes left.

The Diplomats began chipping away as the Bullets started to miss and lost the ball several times. As the contest progressed it became increasingly rougher. Several incidents took place in the game and a near riot near the end.

Bob Baron's layup tied the score for the Diplomats at 53-53 with 2:15 left. McGowan put Gettysburg on top again with a layup but Swetnam netted two fouls to tie it at 55-55. Warfield converted two fouls but Baron looped a free toss after which Swetnam cut loose with his game-winning toss.

Warfield tabbed 30 points to be high scorer for the game and also grabbed 20 rebounds. Frank Grzecki snared 17 rebounds.

The defeat left the Bullets with a 13-13 overall record, their best in several campaigns. F. and M. is 12-6.

14th Straight Win
In the preliminary game the Bullet frosh, playing only as well as they had to, breezed to a 79-64 victory over the F. and M. yearlings. Gettysburg was in command all the way in the relatively poorly played and somewhat rough contest. Rick Bainbridge played his best game of the season.

It was the 14th victory in a row for the local freshmen to up their mark to 173. They finish their campaign against Hill School at Pottstown Saturday afternoon.

Toronto's flickering hopes for a berth in the National Hockey League's Stanley playoffs still are burning.

The Leafs kept the fire alive Wednesday night by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks for the third time in 13 clashes this season. The score was 5-2.

The victory boosted the Leafs into a fifth place tie with the Detroit Red Wings but they still trail the fourth - place New York Rangers by five points. And there are only nine games to go with each team.

Bob Pulford scored two of Toronto's goals. Other Toronto goals were by Bert Olmstead, Marc Reaume and Frank Mahovlich. Earl Balfour and Pierre Pilote were the Chicago scorers.

SCOTT, CLARK, GOVERNOR LAUD CHURCH PLEAS

Highly commending the overseas relief programs of America's three major religious faiths, Pennsylvania's Governor David L. Lawrence and U. S. Senators Joseph S. Clark and Hugh Scott have heartily endorsed current appeals for support of such efforts.

The appeals concerned are the Protestant "One Great Hour of Sharing" and "The Bishops' Relief Fund" appeal, both to be observed in churches in Pennsylvania and elsewhere throughout America on Sunday, and the United Jewish Appeal Special Fund, a continuing effort with special emphasis at this time.

Millions of destitute and hungry persons overseas—refugees from oppression, victims of poverty, war and disaster—are assisted annually by the world-wide programs of aid supported by the current appeals, each of which is independent within its constituency but common in purpose.

In letters made public simultaneously in New York by Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services, the overseas relief agencies of the Protestant and Catholic faiths, and by the United Jewish Appeal, Governor Lawrence said:

"The funds obtained through these three religious appeals will support the voluntary religious overseas relief programs of the three faiths, programs bringing food, clothing, shelter and medical aid to millions of unfortunate people throughout the world.

"Through these programs, men, women and children who have lost almost everything are given help and new hope from the knowledge that someone cares about them and their future.

"I heartily endorse these three programs and I pray that my fellow Pennsylvanians will join in supporting the appeals of their faiths."

Senator Clark wrote:

"The American people from the beginning of our nation have responded with a warmth and generosity of spirit to the needs and distress of others, not only at home but throughout the world.

Heavy Relief Abroad

"Though this response has found expression in various channels, both official and private, it is through the efforts of America's three great religious faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—that the great bulk of American voluntary relief abroad is conducted.

Wants Press Congress To War Against Aggression

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A South American journalist called on the World Press Congress today for a united front against aggression.

"The free press is the backbone of democracy and the principal enemy of totalitarianism," said Julio Hernandez, executive manager of El Colombiano, Medellin, Colombia, in a prepared address. "If we stand united as one in the struggle against all kinds of totalitarianism, democracy will forever prevail."

It was the third day in which Latin American delegates had appealed to journalists from the rest of the world for assistance.

Previous speakers touched on troubles in Cuba, Haiti, Paraguay and Nicaragua. Dr. Rodolfo Abaunza of Leon, Nicaragua, called it a "powerful storm gathering in the Caribbean."

"Without a free press, democracy is only a myth," Hernandez said. "No paper should in any way be controlled or influenced in its editorial policy by its advertisers or pressure groups."

Publisher Hugh Boyd of the New Brunswick, N.J. Home News echoed Hernandez's warning against pressure groups in a prepared speech for a luncheon meeting.

"The foundation of a free press is based upon independence from pressures which may be economic, which may be political or which may be a combination of the two," Boyd said.

for contributions to aid the needy overseas, they demonstrate that our nation has a continuing and sincere concern towards others and that despite the ease of modern living and the high standard of living we enjoy, we have not become moral isolationists.

"I commend the current appeals to all."

Senator Scott said:

"Overseas relief organization of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths carry 80% of the load of all voluntary relief work overseas. These welfare agencies work through volunteers, and are supported by some 100 million Americans of these three faiths.

"This year on March 8, much of the money contributed by the faithful throughout America will be collected through the appeals of these three agencies—the Protestant Appeal through 'One Great Hour of Sharing,' the Catholic Appeal through 'The Bishops' Relief Fund,' and the Jewish Appeal through the 'United Jewish Appeal Special Fund.'"

Billy Casper Wins $20,000 Tourney

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lightning may not strike in the same spot twice, but no one would like to see this aged tested more than Billy Casper, who opened defense of his New Orleans golf title today.

Casper, of Chula Vista, Calif., won the $20,000 tournament title last year. He upset favored Ken Venturi in a sudden death playoff.

Success has been absent from Billy's side this year. A severe attack of influenza has forced him to skip several winter tournaments.

Favorites include Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., 1958 Masters champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Howie Johnson of San Marcos, Calif.

Art Walls Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., leading money winner on the winter tour with earnings of more than $11,000, withdrew from the tournament because of recurring hernia trouble and returned home.

U. S. agricultural exports for the 12 months ending in mid-1959 are estimated to be about 3.8 billion dollars.

U.S. Treasury's Current Borrowing Problems May Be Prelude To Greater Ones

(Editor's Note: There is increasing talk in Washington that the Treasury's current borrowing problems may be the prelude to more serious trouble. The possibilities are canvassed in this, the third of four articles on financing the national debt.)

U.S. Finances No. 2
By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Managing a record national debt is like walking a high wire without the consolation of a safety net.

The footing is treacherous because lenders have lost much of their enthusiasm for Treasury securities — Uncle Sam's I.O.U.'s. Fearing rising interest rates and the possibility of inflation, they're reluctant to make loans on anything but a short term basis.

Unfortunately, Uncle Sam now has to borrow more money than ever before—just when lenders are balky. The national debt already has reached about 286 billion dollars and is headed higher, if only temporarily.

Mostly Short Term

Real trouble could develop out of the fact that the Treasury has had to do most of its recent borrowing on a short term basis. This is the type of borrowing which holds the greatest inflation potential because bank credit is for a period longer than one year, this figure would mount to 82½ billion dollars by next Dec. 31. If such a situation persisted through 1962, with more of the present longer term bonds becoming due, the debt due in one year would soar to 129½ billion dollars. And that is assuming balanced budgets from now on.

Under present conditions, the government couldn't hope to borrow 129 billion dollars in a single year without inviting disaster. In fact, it would be in deep trouble before that point was reached.

Some observers, however, see yet another source of trouble ahead. They believe the government will strain the supply of money available for short-term loans in 1959. Here is their argument:

Recession Helped

In 1958, the recession helped the Treasury borrow huge sums on a short term basis. Businessmen had reduced their inventories sharply and, with most firms operating below capacity, didn't spend money expanding their plants on a vast scale.

Corporations had idle cash which went into short-term Treasury securities. In effect, businessmen rescued the government from having to do most of its borrowing through inflationary bank loans.

This year, the argument goes, inventories will be rebuilt because of economic recovery and businessmen will spend more on their businesses. They won't be able to help out as they did last year.

Centennial Not To Become Refighting Of Civil War

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Fear expressed in some quarters that the forthcoming four-year observance of the Civil War Centennial will develop into a mere series of battle re-enactments was deplored here today in a statement by Major General U. S. Grant, III, chairman of the National Commission created by Congress to plan and coordinate it.

The 78-year-old retired Army officer, who as a boy played on the knee of his grandfather, Lee's opponent in the closing months of the war, wants the centennial to take the form of an extension educational and commemorative program of pageants and observances.

Its purposes as projected by the National Centennial Commission, he revealed, will be to tell in accurate detail the true story of the war, to bring about the discovery and preservation of valuable records, and to encourage the erection of monuments and markers to preserve significant sites and landmarks.

Not A Refighting

"I am much disturbed by the knowledge that people think of the centennial as only a giant refighting of the war," General Grant said. "This isn't the case at all. Some states may have such a thing in mind, and the National Commission will not tell them they can't go through with it—in fact, we intend to help them with their individual programs. But we hope that a series of dignified observances will form the backbone of the centennial."

The general recalled that experience advises against turning the centennial into a mere re-staging of battles.

"The job is too big and too costly," he explained. "Then, too, the most we would have would be maybe 15,000 men deployed to represent $150,000 or more, a situation that still would make it necessary for us to use a great deal of imagination to visualize the phase of history we are trying to depict. There naturally will be some re-enactments of key events—possibly Fort Sumter, First Manassas, the Merrimac-Monitor battle, Antietam, Gettysburg and others—but these will be widely spaced."

Co-ordinated Program

The chairman thinks of the centennial as a carefully co-ordinated program involving every part of the nation, with the strengthening of the Union as its major goal.

"We who are planning the centennial acknowledge that the war was a great tragedy, and we deplore the lives that were lost and the damage done during the four years it was in progress," he said.

"But we also recognize that the war has served to draw us closer together rather than to tear us apart."

He cited the seventy-odd Civil War Round Tables throughout the nation, with a total membership running into the thousands, that now meet in frequent session to study and discuss battles and leaders of the war.

"The activities of these groups prove that there is much to be gained from a study of this contest that was fought nearly a century ago," he continued. "I know of no way of judging but by the past. This is something the military profession realizes, and it is a consideration that brings many military-minded visitors from abroad to this country to walk over our hallowed fields and to gain from the examples set for us by our grandfathers who took part in this war."

Study In Patriotism

General Grant added that he looks forward to the centennial as "a new study of American patriotism and capability." It must be a reappraisal, he said, that will give the nation a deeper understanding of the "immense reserves of bravery, of sacrifice, of idealism which lie in the American character."

He described himself as "highly pleased" to hear that Columbus, Ohio, is planning a service in memory of the 2,200 Confederate soldiers who died while prisoners of war in Camp Chase, a major concentration center in that Northern state. This he identified as the type of gesture the National Commission appreciates, one that will help to unify sentiments in the country and obliterate whatever sectional feeling may remain.

"Our Civil War was the greatest test this country ever faced," he concluded. "Built of the heroism and endurance that was drawn from men and women of both sections of the nation by devotion to principals valued more than life itself, it was our most profound and tragic experience. What was finally gained by it affected our national character and our national destiny itself—the preservation of the American Union as an instrumentality of freedom for all the peoples of the world.

"After the war ended, these ancestors of our saw in the unity of their land something that overshadowed the bitterness of their fight. Since then the sons and grandsons of the enemies in that war have fought shoulder to shoulder in four foreign wars—an inspiring happening unique in history."

NAME KEEPER
JAYCEE HEAD

William R. Keefer was elected president of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce at the dinner meeting held on Monday evening at Schottie's Hotel. Others elected to office follow: Vice president, Robert V. Weaver; secretary, John Krout; treasurer, Paul F. Boller Jr.; directors, Kent E. Daum, Wilmer Dutterer, Russell Abbott, John F. Feeser Jr. and Clyde Bucher. Clyde W. Crouse, retiring president, presided at the session. The next regular meeting of the Jaycees will be held on Monday, March 16, at 6:30 p.m.

The fourth annual Variety Show and This Is Your Life program will be presented under the sponsorship of the local Jaycee chapter on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Littlestown High School auditorium. A highlight of the affair will be to review the life of a local citizen on "This Is Your Life." Marvin F. Breighner will interview the personality for "This Is Your Life."

A three-act Variety Show will precede the television take-off, and performing will be Bob Crawford, Hanover, humorous pantomimist; Hugh Roberts, local high school senior adn cornetist; vocal octet composed of Mrs. Patsy Crouse, Mrs. Doris Plunkert, Mrs. Dorothy Snyder, Mrs. Violet Weisel, Robert B. DeGroot, Robert J. Yingling, Charles E. Rabenstein and Stewart N. Long. Clayton L. Evans will emcee the Variety Show. Reserved seat tickets may be secured at Marvin's Cut-Rate Store, and general admission tickets from any Jaycee or at the door tomorrow night.

The officials and den mothers of Cub Pack No. 84 met on Tuesday evening at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Richard B. Hartlaub, near town. Plans were made for the pack to hold a sandwich sale on Saturday morning, March 21. The sandwiches will be prepared by the den mothers and sold door-to-door in the community by the Cubs. Contributions of cash to purchase the ingredients for the sandwiches will be welcomed from the parents of Cubs. Two new dens were organized at the meeting: Den 3, Mrs. Robert V. Weaver will be den mother, and Mrs. Jacob Adams will be her assistant; Den 8, Mrs. Samuel J. Snyder will transfer from Den 1 to be den mother, with Mrs. Ralph R. Ruggles as first assistant, and Mrs. Luther W. Ritter as second assistant.

JUSTICE DEPT.
BACKS UP BPA

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Board of Public Assistance had a Justice Department ruling today to back up its authority for determining over-all relief policies in Pennsylvania.

But the opinion handed down Wednesday left undecided the legality of a Dec. 16 board ruling that caseworkers can recommend birth control measures to relief recipients provided no religious question was involved.

Harry Shapiro, then public welfare secretary, refused to abide by the board's ruling claiming that the angel's functions were strictly advisory.

Jerome H. Gerberg, deputy attorney general who wrote the legal opinion, said the birth control issue was not specifically involved in the opinion. He acknowledged, however, that the intent of the ruling is to allow the board to make policy and require the department to carry it out.

On the birth control question, he said, other factors may enter and another ruling may be needed on its status.

Abbottstown

Mrs. Della Butt

ABBOTTSTOWN — Paradise Catholic parishioners will, by their offerings Sunday, donate to the Catholic Bishops' Relief Fund which provides food, clothing, medical care and resettlement assistance for the needy in foreign lands. An evening mass Sunday at 7:30 will be in observance of the First Friday. The Rev. Louis S. Dougherty, pastor, will bring communion to housebound members in the morning of the first Friday.

The latest issue of Our Mission Work, publication of the Harrisburg Diocesan office, Society for the Propagation of the Faith, carries a photograph of the Rev. Paul Aumen, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Aumen, New Oxford R. 2. Formerly of the Paradise congregation, he has been stationed in recent years in a mission parish of 14,000 persons in Chile. The Rev. Fr. Aumen is pictured with the jeep he uses to minister to his widely scattered parishioners. In another photograph, he is shown conversing with the bishop of his area, in company with the Rev. William

Frantz, who, as a boy, was a resident of the Paradise Agricultural School. The eldest daughter of the Aumen family of 11 children entered the Sisters of Mercy order about 15 years ago while her brother was a seminarian.

Representatives of the Women's Council of Paradise Parish spent Sunday at St. Joseph Academy, McSherrystown, where they joined with members of other councils at an 8:30 a.m. mass, followed by devotions in charge of the Rev. Daniel Callahan, a Jesuit from Woodstock, Md. The occasion was the women's annual day of recollection. Dinner was served at the academy.

Emmitsburg SIMPLE MEAL PLANS SHOWN HOMEMAKERS

Mrs. Robert Marshall, food and nutrition chairman, presented a one-dish meal demonstration at the recent meeting of the Emmitsburg Homemakers at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Wagaman. Mrs. Robert Fite, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Marshall displayed posters depicting the one-dish meals and distributed recipes to those present.

A donation of $5 was voted to Mrs. John Morrison, Emmitt Gardens, a new member, will have the afternoon of games next Thursday at 1:30 p.m. The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Harner Thursday, March 19, one week in advance of the regular meeting day, which falls on Holy Thursday.

All reservations for the annual Homemakers Luncheon must be in by March 18, Mrs. E. L. Higbee who has tickets announced. Mrs. Higbee and Mrs. George Eyster were named delegates to the annual meeting March 25 at Hood College.

Mrs. Charles Harner and Mrs. Paul Beale were appointed hostesses for the luncheon. Each hostess must take a table decoration.

Twelve members and three guests were present.

SURPLUS FOOD IS SUSTAINING COAL MINERS

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Mechanization and shrinking markets are throwing more and more West Virginia coal miners out of work, but the unemployed are staying put and living off surplus commodities.

That's what a Senate subcommittee was told Wednesday in Charleston as it opened the first of three hearings in the nation's biggest coal producing state to federal aid to depressed areas.

The subcommittee on production and stabilization is expected to hear similar information here today.

Raymond Lewis, president of United Mine Workers District 17, spelled out the plight of his miners.

Mechanization and shrinking coal markets slashed the ranks of West Virginia miners from 125,700 in 1948 to 66,800 in 1957, Lewis said.

The brother of UMW President John L. Lewis estimated only 49,000 to 50,000 miners now are working in West Virginia.

CPA Firm Engaged

The Farmers State Bank of Emmitsburg has engaged the certified public accounting firm of Bartels and Spamer, Baltimore, to make an independent audit of the books and records of the local bank.

Commander Joseph Rodgers presided at the meeting of the American Legion Tuesday evening in the post home. February blood donors were recognized: Oldrich Tokar, George Warthen, Fred Wolfe, Joseph Fitzgerald, Mrs. George Brown, Jack Wagaman, Murry Stultz and Clarence Shorb.

Two new members, John Morrison and Elmer Rippeon, were voted into the organization, bringing membership to 156.

The door prize was won by Henry Warthen. After the business meeting refreshments were served by the committee, assisted by the auxiliary.

Auxiliary Meets

Twenty-three members were present Tuesday for the meeting of the Legion Auxiliary. President Ann Shorb conducted the session.

Madeline Harner took orders for pins made by a veteran in the hospital at Sabillasville. She also announced that Blue Cross dues are payable in March.

Refreshment committee for next month is Beatrice Umbel, Jane Hess and Madeline Harner. The draw prize was won by Helen Rodgers. Jennie Motter's name was called for the door prize but she was not present. After the meeting the ladies joined the men of the post for refreshments.

Grand Knight Guy A. Baker Sr. presided Monday when Brute Council, Knights of Columbus, met in the council home with 35 present. An invitation was read from a member in Baltimore to attend the annual retreat at Marresa Retreat Home. Applications for membership were received and read from Joseph W. Sullivan and Theodore N. Topper.

The chairman of the home improvement committee reported that the third floor of the building has been remodeled and is ready for use. A new cover has been purchased for the pool table and will be put on in the near future by some of the members.

Elected to membership were the following: Francis G. Joy, John F. Bailey, John D. Kaas, Donald Fitzgerald, Clarence Ridenour, Carrollton Davis, Jesse Best, Leon Young, Charles Wood and Raymond Baker. The Rev. James Twomey, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, was appointed chaplain.

The 7 a.m. mass Sunday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church will be the communion mass for the Holy Name Society. Junior and senior members are asked to occupy the seats designated for them.

The Emmitsburg Lions Club will meet Monday evening.

CIRCULATES PEACH SPRAY INFORMATION

Methods of control San Jose and European lecanium scales, red mite and leaf curl, to reduce bacterial leaf spot and brown rot were described to growers in a peach spray information letter by County Agent Frank S. Settle. The best time for applying the insecticide is before buds start to crack—but when the temperature is above freezing, the agent said.

The following formulas can be used with a dilute mixture or concentrate mixture measurements given in that order.

Controlling scales, mites and leaf curl: copper sulfate, 2 and 3 pounds; fresh spray lime, 3 and 4½ pounds; plus either miscible superior oil, 2 and three gallons, or superior oil emulsion, three and 4½ gallons. Zettle said, "Where Terrapin scale is a problem, increase the oil by one gallon for the dilute mixture and one and a half gallons for the concentrate."

Controlling leaf curl and reducing bacterial leaf spot (not scales): copper sulfate, six and eight pounds plus fresh spray lime, six and eight pounds.

To control leaf curl only, ferbam three pounds dilute, or six pounds concentrate, or DN (regular) one quart dilute may be used. Do not combine DN with oil.

Zettle stresses that complete coverage of all buds and limbs is needed to obtain effective pest control; Apply oil sprays as a mist to reduce bud injury, he said.

Any of the above formulas are to be used in each 100 gallons of water.

MAN IN SPACE TOP U. S. NEED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) said that the United States must be the first to develop a manned space vehicle that could deliver nuclear weapons.

"Manned space vehicles must have top priority," Stennis said in an interview.

He spoke as the Senate Space Committee approved authorization for $48,354,000 more money for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for use between now and July 1.

That total included $20,750,000 for Project Mercury, an eventual 200-million-dollar project to explore manned space flight for peaceful purposes.

Stennis said the initial price tag of 200 million dollars for Project Mercury may be just a small start on the over-all program.

Stennis is a member of both the Appropriations and Armed Services committees of the Senate. He headed a Space subcommittee which conducted public and secret hearings on NASA's needs and plans for the additional funds.

National Can Co. To Build Near Hanover

CHICAGO (AP)—National Can Corp. is planning to erect a new plant near Hanover, Pa., this year. J. B. Wharton Jr., president of the firm which has headquarters in Chicago, said today the plant will have a capacity of 10 million cans a week. It will employ up to 125 workers at peak production.

Site of the plant is a 15-acre parcel of land along the Western Maryland Railway line a mile east of Hanover. The corporation now has 17 plants in operation throughout the country.

The Hanover plant will supply containers to about 30 canners in the Hanover agricultural district.

No date was given for the start of construction.

Ivy League Teams Split In Rose Bowl

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ivy League teams have a 2-2 record in Rose Bowl competition. Brown lost the first game to Washington State, 14-0 and in 1917 Penn lost by the same score to Oregon. Harvard scored 7-6 over Oregon in 1920 and Columbia turned in a major upset with a 7-0 victory over Stanford in 1934.

HOPE FADES FOR VIRGINIA FAMILY TODAY

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Hopes for the safety of a missing Louisiana County family of four flickered today as authorities pushed for positive identification of two bodies found Wednesday in a field near here. There were indications there might be a third body.

State police said it was reasonable to assume the bodies visible atop a tangle of brush were those of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, a feed truck driver, and one of his two blonde-haired daughters.

State Police Capt. W. W. Blythe said "There are indications that a second child's body may lie beneath the body of the man."

Vanished in January

The bodies were stumbled upon by two Fredericksburg men near a mound of sawdust two miles west of here.

Jackson, his wife, 27, and their two young girls vanished Jan. 11 as they drove home from a visit to relatives.

Authorities said clothing worn

Football Players In Other Sports

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Penn has 11 football players who participate in other sports. Barney Berlinger, Grev Munger, Dave Sikarskie and Dave Coffin also are trackmen. Larry Purdy and Bill Kesacks played baseball. Howard Colehower, Bill Fenn and Terry Ward can handle lacrosse sticks. Fred Doelling plays basketball and Frank Wilson rowed on the Red and Blue crew.

"I think it is reasonable to assume that they are the Jacksons," Blythe said.

Authorities made no efforts to move the bodies after their discovery shortly before nightfall under a pile of dead branches and leaves at the side of a dirt road.

State police guarded the area all night.

MURDER COUNT AGAINST GIRL BEING DROPPED

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—A homicide charge against a teenage Michigan girl probably will be dropped, but she still faces delinquency and runaway charges.

Marion County Prosecutor Paul E. Parker Jr. said today the charge against Nancy Jean Sedlock, 16, of Erie, Mich., would be withdrawn unless further evidence develops. She was at first implicated in the murder of Mannington Police Chief Amos Morris, 49.

Miss Sedlock said Chief Morris was shot five times last Saturday by Douglas Barker, 28-year-old mental patient from Lynchburg, Va. Barker shot himself to death on Monday at Leaksville, N.C., as police were closing in.

Had Hostage
Morris' bullet-riddled body was found tossed down an embankment near Mannington.

Later Saturday, the Sedlock girl showed up at police headquarters in Frederick, Md. She said she had escaped from Barker, who

Barons Move Close To 2nd Place Bears

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Barons were only three points behind the second place Hershey Bears today in the American Hockey League chase after Eddie Mazur scored an unassisted goal at 7:19 of a sudden death overtime period.

In the game at Hershey Wednesday night, the Bears led 2-0 going into the third period on a first period goal by Hec Leland and another by Willie Marshall in the second.

But Don Hogan tallied at 1:15 of the third session, and Bill Shvetz tied it up at 6:53 on a spectacular shot. Hogan drove the puck high into the air, and when it hit the ice Shvetz slammed it into the net.

fired two shots after the girl.

The deranged gunman was driving with a hostage at the time, Miss Sedlock said.

Police still have found no trace of the 1949 sedan or a third person.

Chief Morris had taken Miss Sedlock and Barker into custody at Mannington. He had wanted to check on the runaway girl, who had left home Jan. 26. It was the fourth time she had run away.

Providence's chances for a playoff berth got a jolt when Buffalo rallied for a 5-3 victory at Buffalo. The Reds remained in fifth place, four points behind Rochester.

Alabama's smallest football squads were in 1896 and 1903. They each had 16 players.

UNPAID TAX IN LITTLESTOWN NEAR $20,000

Littlestown residents paid $112,973.66 on their tax bill during 1958 and still owe $19,839.84 according to the annual report by Tax Collector LeRoy W. Bish to the county clerk of courts.

The report shows the 853 owners of real estate, 1,841 persons listed for occupation tax and 2,100 for per capita tax paid $30,982.40 to the borough of Littlestown on its 18-mill tax; $63,756.60 to the school board on its 30-mill real estate and $10 per capita tax, $13,037.55 to the county on its 6½-mill levy on real estate and occupations and four-mill levy on $449,423 worth of personal property—stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc., owned by Littlestown residents—and $5,197.11 to the institution district on its three-mill tax on real estate and occupations.

Some Saved Discount
The holders of the personal property paid in $1,758.17 at discount and thus saved $34.88.

The report shows that $92,618.17 worth of taxes were paid while the discount was given, thus providing the taxpayers with savings totaling $1,890.16; $10,063.56 was paid at face value. A total of $10,291.93 was paid on 1957 taxes. The report shows all of the personal property tax paid, and these amounts still owing the other taxing authorities: the borough, $1,891.99; school district, $16,932.38; county, $698.43 and institution district, $317.04.

The collection was made at a cost of $3,938.54. The report also showed the tax collector to have $501.10 expenses in carrying out his work.

EAST GERMAN REDS URGING USSR TO ACT

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—East Germany's top Communists are believed urging Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev during his current visit to move more quickly in giving them a peace treaty and control over Allied routes to West Berlin.

Within minutes after arriving in Leipzig Wednesday, Khrushchev declared the U.S.S.R. would sign a separate peace pact with East Germany unless the West comes to terms on an all-German settlement.

Speaking after Khrushchev, East Germany's Communist leader Walter Ulbricht said: "Our people desire a peace treaty. Further delay can no longer be tolerated."

Not Fast Enough

The Soviet premier may not be moving fast enough for the impatient East German leaders. The Red army brought them out of Soviet exile at the end of World War II and put them in charge of East Germany. Ulbricht and his associates badly want the symbols of mastery in their own house. They feel that the sooner they get them, the sooner other governments will recognize them as rulers of a real nation.

The East German Communists have an uncomfortable feeling that Khrushchev considers them at least partly expendable in the global East-West diplomatic warfare.

The Soviet leader undoubtedly regards Germany as only part—though an important part—of the whole world picture. He may feel he can gain concessions from the West by delaying, perhaps indefinitely, giving the East German satellite government the stronger powers it is seeking.

To Visit Fair

Khrushchev's visit officially is being made to see the Leipzig Trade Fair, an annual showcase of the Communist world's industrial might. But East German officials made plain that they are more interested in the political aspects of his trip.

Khrushchev's visit was given a terrific buildup by the East German government but his first appearance Wednesday failed to arouse much enthusiasm among the people.

OK 3 New Lights For Taneytown

Three new street lights were authorized at a meeting of the mayor and council of Taneytown Monday evening. The clerk was instructed to communicate the authorization to the Potomac Edison Co. that lights be installed at the end of George St., at the Kenneth Davidson - Marshall Duple property and at the John Cheno-weth-Glenn Bollinger property.

Council instructed the mayor to provide a temporary road to the new house being built by Dean Brown on the Maurice Feeser addition to Taneytown.

Clerk Henry Reinhold reported receipts of $3,979.98; expenditures, $2,101.80; general fund balance, $12,936.27; parking meter fund balance, $3,610.76. Police Chief Emory Hahn reported issuance of 33 parking tickets and directing traffic for five funerals.

William Howard Taft was the first U. S. president to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

Ike Can't Foresee U.S. In Any Situation Calling For It To Attack First In War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower replied with a blunt no when asked at his press conference Wednesday whether he could foresee any circumstances under which the United States might attack first in a conflict.

A newsman reminded the President that Secretary of Defense McElroy had said earlier this week that U.S. policy at present is not to attack first, but that he didn't know whether that always would be the policy.

Eisenhower went on to say that the right of self-preservation is instinctive for nations as it is for individuals. If we know, he said, that we are under the threat of attack by missiles or planes, then we have to act as rapidly as possible to defend ourselves.

Warns About Thinking
But so far as he knows, Eisenhower said, Congress is not thinking about changing the constitution to surrender to the President his right to declare war.

On that general subject, Eisenhower cautioned against thinking every minute along the lines that Washington, for example, is going to be bombed. That sort of thinking, he said, can create more misapprehension than good.

BUDGET—The sooner the United States can get its government costs on a pay-as-you-go basis, the better it will be for the entire world, Eisenhower said.

He said he couldn't think of anything worse than for anyone in Congress to plan deliberately to throw the administration's 77-billion-dollar budget out of balance.

Eisenhower made that remark when told there have been reports that in any military emergency Secretary of Defense McElroy would shelve his announced plans to retire from his post before the end of Eisenhower's term in office.

McElroy, said the President, wouldn't want to break up the team under such circumstances.

The President praised McElroy warmly, saying he learned his job quickly and has turned in a statesmanlike performance.

TROOP WITHDRAWAL—Any arrangement for withdrawal of Western military forces from Europe would have to be within the framework of a general agreement in which the West could have confidence and which would be self-enforcing.

ROCKET—Eisenhower said he is highly pleased by the performance of gold-plated Pioneer IV, the rocket launched by the Army earlier this week. He predicted the rocket will go into orbit around the sun.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower said, it is sending back valuable information about the radiation belt in outer space.

FOREIGN TRADE—Eisenhower expressed belief that the United States is not ready for any radical change in its policy of restricting trade with Russia and other Communist nations.

It is a matter that is under continuing studies, he said, adding that there have been some changes already—not so much in policy as in the list of specific items in which trade is permitted.

SUMMIT CONFERENCE—Eisenhower said he deplores talk of summit conferences when he sees no possibility for any constructive steps being taken at such meetings.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has pressed for a summit meeting. There is a possibility the proposed foreign ministers conference may pave the way for one.

5 COLLECTORS FILE REPORTS ON '58 TAXES

Reports of five tax collectors have been filed with the county clerk of courts.

Latimore Township's 395 property owners and 563 assessed for per capita tax paid Collector Walter E. Harbold, York Springs R. 1, $29,324.79, of which $5,723.30 was the township's share of the tax, $18,420.99 the school district's, $3,757.32 the county's and $1,522.18 the institution district. The township had a seven-mill and 5 per capita levy, the school district a 30-mill and 10 tax. The collection was made at a cost of $998.49 to the taxing authorities, and at the end of the year taxes remaining to be collected totaled $4,861.45.

Hamilton Twp. Tax Collector John W. Slaybaugh, New Oxford R. 1, reported collection of $29,523.03 in his township, of which $3,329.03 was based on the six-mill, $1 per capita township tax; $21,174.33 on the 35-mill, $14 per capita school tax; $3,472.93 on the county's 6½-mill tax and $1,546.94 on the institution district's three-mill tax. The collection was made at a cost of $1,141.07 to the taxing authorities. The amount collected at the end of the year totaled $1,877.87. The township had 315 persons assessed for real estate and 461 for per capita tax.

Tyrone And Mt. Joy
Tyrone Township's 403 persons assessed as real estate owners and 760 for per capita tax paid $49,116.75 in taxes during the year, with the collection costing the taxing bodies $2,470.33. The collection secured $8,747.50 for the township which has a nine-mill real estate and $5 per capita tax; $33,183.55 for the school board which has a 42-mill and $10 tax, $5,123.30 for the county and $2,105.01 for the institution district according to tax collector Paul A. Shaffer, Gardners. Outstanding at the end of the year were taxes totaling $8,144.65.

Beulah Snyder, Gettysburg R. 1, reported $43,717.99 collected in Mt. Joy Twp. The 428 owners of real estate and 848 listed for per capita tax in the township paid $6,474.13 to the township, $31,407.39 to the school district, $4,057.24 to the county and $1,779.23 to the institution district. The township levies a six-mill and 5 tax and the school district a 45-mill and $10 tax. The collection was made at a cost of $1,748.69. Outstanding taxes at the end of the 1958 totaled $5,246.35.

In Abbottstown the borough levy was eight-mills and the school district 22-mills and $10. The residents of the town, according to the report of Tax Collector Mrs. Geraldine V. Hafer, paid $13,702.54 of which $2,345.23 was for the town, $8,361.32 for the school district, $2,129.50 for the county and $866.49 for the institution district. The collection was made at a cost of $540.51 to the taxing authorities. A total of $1,632.15 remained to be collected at the close of the year.

FBI, Police Seek Criminal, Robbed Bank Of $25,955, In Pennsylvania Mountains

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Police and FBI agents kept a constant vigil in the mountainous central Pennsylvania area today for Frank Lawrence Spreng, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals.

Spreng, 29, sought for the $25,955 holdup of a Hamilton, Ohio, bank on Monday, was reported seen in this city of 75,000 Wednesday.

Roadblocks were set up at key points in the area, but as the hours dragged on there was no sign of the elusive Spreng.

After the Hamilton holdup, Ohio police said Spreng stole an airplane and flew 160 miles to Co-shooton. He was reported near Canton Monday night.

Registered At Hotel
Police Chief Vaul E. Rouzer of Altoona said a man fitting Spreng's description registered at the small Altoona Hotel on the outskirts of town early Wednesday morning and checked out about 12:30 p.m.

Rouzer said the man then had a new water pump installed in his car at a service station and drove toward the center of town.

The chief said a bellhop later discovered money wrappers from the Hamilton bank in the vacated hotel room. The wrappers, Rouzer said, would have held $22,500.

The car was described as a dark blue buick bearing Pennsylvania license plate 764540. Police said Spreng was wearing a black leather jacket, blue sport shirt and hunting cap.

Continue Checks
State police said he was identified by witnesses through photographs.

"We feel pretty sure it was Spreng," an officer said.

Police made "continuing checks" at airports in the area and sent alerts to all police in Pennsylvania and neighboring states. They posted a detail at the Lock Haven Airport where Piper Aircraft, Inc., has a number of light planes.

BERKS CO. PAIR FAVORITES FOR PAIR OF TITLES

By FRED WALTERS
The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Every few years a player comes along who fires the sports fan's imagination.

West Reading High has such a player this season in Ron Krick, a 6-foot-7 sophomore who has been averaging nearly 34 points a game. He capped his season's efforts Tuesday night with a 43-point performance against Greenwood in a Dist. 3 Class C playoff game. The final score was 74-41.

It was West Reading's first playoff game after finishing the regular season with a 48-34 loss to Kutztown. The defeat ended the Cowboys' 22-game victory streak. Krick was held to 17 points, his lowest output of the season.

Both Favored
Kutztown, a Class B school, and West Reading make up a strong one-two punch from the Berks County League that now stands a fair chance of bringing two state championships back to Berks this month.

Both are favored in their respective classes in Dist. 3 against top grade competition. Kutztown's next hurdle is Annville tonight while West Reading goes against Hummelstown next Tuesday for the Dist. C championship.

Records on the subject aren't available, but it's a good guess that two state titles for one league would be unprecedented.

Class B Wide Open

Meanwhile, the Class B playoffs were thrown wide open Tuesday night when defending state champion Wampum was upset by Snowden, 58-56 in a WPIAL GAME.

Wampum was the last of the 1958 state champions still in the running this year. Neither Haverford of Dist. 1, defending Class A champion, nor Class C champion Williamsburg of Dist. 6, made their district playoffs this season.

All of the 1958 runners-up are still in there, however. Altoona of Dist. 6 was runner-up to Haverford; Columbia of Dist. 3 was Wampum's opponent, and Jenkinson from Dist. 1 was Williams-

REDS PROTEST CABLE ISSUE

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union today sharply protested the U.S. naval boarding of a Soviet trawler suspected of cutting a transatlantic cable off Newfoundland.

Moscow radio said a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow described reports that the trawler Novorossisk had damaged the cables as "a complete invention."

The boarding took place off Newfoundland Feb. 26. The officer who headed the American search party, Lt. Donald Sheely of Falls Church, Va., said later that the fishing boat "probably quite likely" had something to do with the break in the cables but he didn't know whether accidentally or intentionally.

"Provocative Aims"
"The note," said the Moscow broadcast, "points out that the incident involving detention of the Soviet trawler was undertaken with provocative aims in mind."

"The Soviet government expects the U.S. government to take all necessary measures to prevent the recurrence of such unwarranted actions toward Soviet fishing trawlers engaged in fishing in the open seas."

The note said the trawler "did not cause any damage to underwater telegraph or telephone transatlantic cables."

Among the District Class A titlists in 1958, York (3), Williamsport (4), Altoona, Charleroi (7) and Erie Strong Vincent (10) are contending again this year.

All but York and Charleroi are favored to repeat. York has to beat Steelton and Harrisburg, Penn. in Central Penn Conference playoffs before it can even qualify for the Dist. 3 playoffs in which South Penn champion Carlisle is favored.

Charleroi will be in the underdog role most likely next Wednesday when it meets Farrell for the WPIAL title despite the fact it beat Farrell early in the season.

Wampum's loss to Snowden trimmed the list of 1958 Class B district titlists still in contention in '59 to four. They are Darby (1), Exeter (2), Columbia and Mansfield (4).

The Class C list has been trimmed even more. Jenkinson and Randolph (10) are still in the running, while Hyndman of Dist. 5 has clinched the 1959 title. Jenkinson and Randolph play for their district championships tonight.

Newlyweds Escape Hazleton Hotel Fire In Which 4 Die

By FRANK AVATO
And BILL ALEXANDER

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Beverly Klem, a bride of four weeks, and her bridegroom, George, stood paralyzed with fear as smoke and flames swirled about them in their fourth floor apartment at the Hotel Gary. The young couple straddled a window ledge looking out into the freezing cold night. They screamed for help. Firemen below poured water into the flaming hotel.

The Klems waited 20 minutes for some sign of rescue. It must have seemed more like an eternity. Finally, in desperation, choked by thick smoke and trapped by licking flames, they took the only way out.

Said To Pole
Blonde Beverly, an attractive Hazleton waitress, grabbed a television cable. She slid down the cable to a pole, grabbed the pole and hung momentarily high above the street. Shouts of let go came from below. But the scantily clad teenager held on for dear life. Finally she swung to the roof of an adjoining 1½ story building. Her 22-year-old husband followed.

"I can't believe we got out," she sobbed as a reporter gallantly wrapped her in his overcoat. There were other heroic and tragic scenes in this anthracite community shortly after 1 a.m. today when the 75-year-old Hotel Gary erupted in a mass of flames.

Was Sleeping
Oscar Aronson, an 80-year-old permanent resident of the hotel, wept during an interview. "I was sleeping during the early stages of the fire," he said in a wavering voice.

"When I awoke my room was filling up fast with smoke. I thought I was trapped for sure. But I managed to feel my way into the hall and to the fire exit."

Bernard Kubert, 26-year-old Hazleton police officer said he passed the hotel on his 1 a.m. rounds and everything was quiet. Ten minutes later, he returned to see flames shooting out of the building.

Then there was the priest giving the last rites for the four who didn't make it.

CATTLE RESCUED

HIGH PRAIRIE, Alta. (AP)—Neighbors turned up with tractors, bulldozers and trucks to rescue 63 head of Bill Marquette's cattle mired in a soft-bottomed slough. Sixteen cattle died, but the others were pulled to safety.

CLAIM BLIND GROUP ROBBED FOUNDATION

NEW YORK (AP) — The W. C. Handy Foundation for the Blind, Inc., and a fund raiser, David A. Ulrey, "seemingly dipped very deeply into a golden barrel for their own selfish purposes," the New York state attorney general's office charged today.

The foundation was established by W. C. Handy, Negro composer of "St. Louis Blues" and scores of other melodies, who died last March 28 at 84. He had been blind for years, and confined to a wheelchair by a stroke toward the end. Action against the foundation and Ulrey was taken in State Supreme Court by the office of Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Charge Mulcting

An affidavit said "there is no doubt but that a substantial sum" has been "mulcted from the channels of charity" through actions by Ulrey and the foundation, which was set up to raise money to aid the blind.

The foundation's letterhead lists actress Tallulah Bankhead as a director, and author Pearl S. Buck and Negro musician Nat (King) Cole as members of the advisory board.

The affidavit lists Chauncey Northern, a New York City music teacher, as president of the foundation.

Have No Comment

No comment on the attorney general's action was immediately available from Ulrey or any of those connected with the foundation.

The affidavit was attached to an order signed by Justice Edgar J. Nathan which directs Ulrey and the foundation to show cause next Thursday why they should not be restrained from soliciting funds pending further legal action.

Bill Timmims, Local Electrician, Served In Army And Navy Despite Being Turned Down By 2 Services

When the Navy wouldn't take him, he joined the Army and when the Army later refused his services, he joined the Navy. That was the seemingly paradoxical experience of William T. Timmims Sr., one of Gettysburg's veteran electricians.

Always one for activity, Timmims last September emerged from a brief retirement and opened an appliance repair shop on W. Middle St.

Timmims was 17 when the U. S. became involved in World War I. He wanted to do his bit and tried to enlist in the Navy at Pittsburgh, where he was then employed. The Navy said he didn't weigh enough and would not enlist him, so he went down the street a few blocks to the Army recruiting office and joined up.

After serving with the 14th Cavalry along the Texas - Mexico border, he was discharged February 9, 1919, having been commissioned a first lieutenant. He continued as an Army Reservist until World War II.

With things warming up, he applied in 1940 for active Army duty and underwent a physical examination. But that showed he had tuberculosis, he was told. Concerned, he went to Mont Alto for an x-ray examination. There he learned that he had only some scar tissue from his childhood days.

Another Try
Armed with this report, he tried again to get into active Army service but the Army wasn't impressed. So Timmims tried the Navy and became, in June, 1941, a warrant officer. He served on Navy transport repair ships and mine sweepers in the Atlantic. Later he was transferred to the Seabees and helped with the electrical work for Admiral Nimitz headquarters on Guam. This was while Japanese snipers still infested the island.

Upon his return to the U. S., he became liberty officer at Providence, R. I. In 1946 he was furloughed to the organized Reserves. When hostilities broke out in Korea, Timmims tried again for active duty, but he was turned down and was retired from the Reserves as "overaged."

Altogether he had toted up six years and four months of active service.

Began Trade Early
As an electrician, Timmims has had an even more active record. He began at an early age helping his father, the late Charles A. Timmims, then a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad electrician who did some work on the side. Later the elder Timmims became a partner of the late Harrison F. Harbach Sr. in the H & T Electric Co. here. Timmims' son learned the electrical business from his father and, when he was discharged from the Army in 1919, went to work for H & T, continuing until 1924 when he became maintenance electrician for the Auburn Shale Brick Co. which then operated a plant here.

Timmims recalls his early days as an electrician. "When I started to work at the electrical trade," he said, "we wired old houses that were already built." He worked in many of Gettysburg's older houses, including such landmarks as the Jennie Wade House, Gen. Robert E. Lee's Headquarters and the present YWCA building. He helped wire the original Warner Hospital building.

Some of these presented wiring difficulties which would be unknown today. Boring holes for wiring was then done with arm strong power and a hand brace. When heavy beams were encountered, as the often were, a bit extension was added to increase the reach. The early builders didn't have the electricians in mind and didn't hesitate to use tough-to-bore black walnut or oak timbers. Some floor beams, Timmims said, were "just logs, saved flat on the top and bottom," and it was impossible with the tools available to bore across them without the bit coming out through the ceiling below.

A 1926 accident made it impossible for Timmims to continue his work for the Auburn company so the next year he went to work for M. A. Hartley, electrical wholesaler, with whom he continued until March 1, 1958, when he retired after 30 years of service.

Retirement wasn't attractive enough, he found, and when he spotted a vacant storeroom on Middle St., he inquired about it, rented it, and opened for business. His aim, he said, is to repair things that people can carry in. Specializing in small appliances produces some expert knowledge of the idiosyncrasies of these devices which Timmims finds advantageous, so much that more than a little of his business is from electricians who bring in their own customers' work rather than take the time from their large construction work to service small electrical appliances.

Mexico ceded New Mexico and California to the United States in 1848 for 15 million dollars.

FIND MISSING FAMILY ON BUS IN TAMPA, FLA.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A search for the president of the Kankakee Motor Coach Co., his wife and nine children has ended.

Victor Curtis had not talked with newsmen about treatment he received in Illinois or why he put his family aboard a 37-passenger air-conditioned bus and drove to Tampa, but Mrs. Curtis had plenty to say.

Sheriff's deputy Daniel O'Loughlin of Kankakee County said authorities put out an alert Feb. 19, when the Curtis family and bus disappeared.

Mrs. Curtis spoke of telephoned threats to her and her husband. "Even our children have been threatened," she said.

"Too Aggressive"
"We were too aggressive. We took the bus line and I guess we took business that didn't belong to us."

The sheriff's deputy at Kankakee said Curtis had been having financial difficulties with the bus line.

Patrons complained of poor service, officials said. Curtis had been cited by the Illinois Commerce Commission for faulty vehicles during the year he ran the company.

A bank at Tampa seized the bus in which the family came to Florida. It gave Curtis 10 days to pay off a loan on it made by the City National Bank of Kankakee.

"... And Get Out"

Mrs. Curtis, who said she had taken a job as a waitress, said an Illinois Commerce Commission member once asked her husband, "Why don't you wise up, pack your clothes and get out."

She told newsmen the family would leave Tampa now that her husband's whereabouts was known. He has been working as a bus driver.

"We've got to go somewhere where they won't find us," she said. Mrs. Curtis wouldn't specify to whom "they" referred. Kankakee police said they had never received any reports from Curtis or anyone else about threats to the Curtis family.

Pa. Farm Price Index Declines

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania farm price index during the month ended Feb. 15 dropped 2 per cent below the previous month, a report by the State Agriculture Department showed Wednesday.

The index for all farm produce in mid-February was 235 per cent of the 1910-14 base level, or 2 per cent below mid-January.

The department said Tuesday a survey by the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service showed that the livestock price index also was 2 per cent lower and the crops index was down 1 per cent.

The crops index decline was due to lower prices received for apples, vegetables and potatoes, the department said.

The report also showed that egg and milk prices declined although the price for steers and heifers was up. The feed grain and hay indexes both rose a point due to slightly higher prices for wheat and corn.

Lowest point of habitation in the world is Sodom in Israel. It is 1,290 feet below sea level.

headlined its report from Moscow by correspondent Malcolm Muggeridge: "Macmillan — the man who broke the ice jam."

MACMILLAN IS HAILED ABROAD AS NEW LEADER

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was hailed in Britain today as the new leader of the Western alliance.

British observers said his visit to Moscow had made him the West's key figure in the future critical dealings with the Soviet Union on the issues of Germany and West Berlin.

Macmillan, on his return Tuesday, said Britain should "try to give a lead to find a way through."

The London Times commented: "With the American head of state a declining force, the German chancellor an old, unhappy man, and the French president full preoccupied with other problems, the responsibility falling on the British prime minister to lead the alliance sensibly and yet strongly in the weeks ahead is paramount."

Hail Leadership

The Liberal News Chronicle said bluntly: "Macmillan arrived back in London from the Soviet Union and straightaway assumed the leadership of the West."

The Daily Telegraph said Macmillan was in a better position than any other Western statesman to assess the Soviet attitude. "The skill and cool good sense he has shown in Moscow puts Macmillan in an enviable position of authority with which to fashion a united policy among the Western Allies," the Telegraph commented.

"Broke Ice Jam"
Macmillan appeared to have gained tremendous prestige as a result of his reconnaissance mission. Even opposition Laborite newspapers gave him a grudging slap on the back.

The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor party said the prime minister "has done a good job in Moscow within the limits of the recent Western policy."

The Daily Mirror, another fairly consistent critic of Macmillan,

Installs Automatic Car-Washing Unit

Automatic car - washing equipment has been installed by Stuart L. Hetrick's Service Center, 100 York St.

The all-in-one equipment, known as a Washmobile, enables an employee to wash cars in a few minutes. The Washmobile features a built-in vacuum cleaner, two pressure guns which clean white-wall tires automatically, and two high-pressure waterguns for quick-cleaning hard-to-reach spots around grilles, lights and bumpers.

"Nothing on the Washmobile touches the car," Hetrick said.

"It is so designed that we combine the quality of a hand-wash with the speed and efficiency of modern equipment. We can now offer our patrons a better wash, a faster wash — a truly wash-while-you-wait service."

"The need for a fast car-wash service has long existed in this area," he said. "Hetrick's Service Center is now equipped to accommodate quickly and efficiently car

Cuba Takes Over Telephone Company

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government has taken over control of the Cuban Telephone Co., an affiliate of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The Cabinet authorized the Communications Ministry to appoint an interventor to run the company while a probe is underway. IT&T has a 30-million-dollar investment in the 85-million-dollar company.

The revolutionary government is chiefly interested in rate increases granted by ex-President Fulgencio Batista in 1957. Under the new law, the increases are nullified.

The company said previously the increases were granted to pay for expansion of telephone service.

Sandburg Says Lincoln Was Hard As Rock And Soft As Drifting Fog; Man Of Peace

Carl Sandburg, world famous Lincoln biographer, held the joint session of Congress spellbound when he delivered an address on Lincoln on February 12, officially opening the Lincoln Centennial year. His address follows in full:

"Before beginning this prepared address, I must make the remark that this introduction, this reception here calls for humility rather than pride. I am well aware of that.

"Not often in the story of mankind does a man arrive on earth who is both steel and velvet, who is as hard as rock and soft as drifting fog, who holds in his heart and mind the paradox of terrible storm and peace unbreakable and perfect. Here and there across centuries come reports of men alleged to have these contrasts.

"And the incomparable Abraham Lincoln, born 150 years ago this day, is an approach if not a perfect realization of this character. In the time of the April lilies in the year 1865, on his death, the casket with his body was carried north and west a thousand miles; and the American people wept as never before; bells sobbed, cities wore crepe; people stood in tears and with hats off as the railroad burial car paused in the leading cities of seven states ending its journey at Springfield, Ill., the hometown.

"Powers Of A Dictator"
"During the 4 years he was President he at times, especially in the first 3 months, took to himself the powers of a dictator; he commanded the most powerful armies till then assembled in modern warfare; he enforced conscription of soldiers for the first time in American history; under imperative necessity he abolished the right of habeas corpus; he directed politically and spiritually the wild, massive turbulent forces let loose in civil war, a war he argued and pleaded for compensated emancipation of the slaves.

Confiscate Property
"The slaves were property. They were on the tax books along with horses and cattle, the valuation of each slave written next to his name on the tax assessor's books. Failing to get action on compensated emancipation, as a Chief Executive having war powers he issued the paper by which he declared the slaves to be free under military necessity.

"In the end nearly $4 million worth of property was taken away from those who were legal owners of it, property confiscated, wiped out as by fire and turned to ashes, at his instigation and executive direction. Chatel property recognized and lawful for 300 years was expropriated, seized without payment.

"In the month the war began he told his secretary, John Hay: 'My policy is to have no policy.'

"Three years later in a letter to a Kentucky friend made public, he confessed plainly: 'I have been controlled by events.'

"His words at Gettysburg were sacred, yet strange with a color of the familiar: 'We cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far beyond our poor power to add or detract.'

"He could have said 'the brave Union men.' Did he have a purpose in omitting the word 'Union'? Was he keeping himself and his utterance clear of the passion that would not be good to look back on when the time came for peace and reconciliation? Did he mean to leave an implication that there were brave Union men and brave Confederate men, living and dead, who had struggled there?

Kentuckian Loses Two
"We do not know, of a certainty. Was he thinking of the Kentucky father whose two sons died in battle, one in Union blue, the other in Confederate gray, the father inscribing on the stone over their double grave, 'God knows which was right'? We do not know. His changing policies from time to time aimed at saving the Union. In the end his armies won and his nation became a world power.

"In August of 1864 he wrote a memorandum that he expected in view of the national situation, he expected to lose the next November election. That month of August was so dark. Sudden military victory brought the tide his way; the vote was 2,200,000 for him and 1,800,000 against him. Among his bitter opponents were such figures as Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, and Cyrus H. McCormick, inventor of the farm reaper.

"In all his essential propositions the southern Confederacy had the moral support of powerful, respectable elements throughout the north, probably more than a million voters believing in the justice of the southern cause. While the war winds howled he insisted that the Mississippi was one river meant to belong to one country, that railroad connection from coast to coast must be pushed through and the Union Pacific Railroad made a reality.

Raised, Supplied Armies
"While the luck of war wavered and broke and came again, as generals failed and campaigns were lost, he held enough forces of the north together to raise new armies and supply them, until generals were found who made war as victorious war has always been made, with terror, frightfulness, destruction, and on both sides, North and South, valor and sacrifice past words of man to tell. In the mixed shame and blame of the immense wrongs of two crashing civilizations, often with respect to say, he said nothing, slept not at all, and on occasions he was seen to weep in a way that made weeping appropriate, decent, majestic.

"As he rode alone on horseback near Soldiers Home on the edge of Washington one night his hat was shot off; a son he loved died as he watched at the bed; his wife was accused of betraying information to the enemy, until denials from him were necessary. An Indiana man at the White House heard him say, 'Voorhees, don't it seem strange to you that I, who would never so much as cut off the head of a chicken, should be elected, or selected, into the midst of all this blood?'

"He tried to guide General Nathaniel Prentiss Banks, a Democrat, three times governor of Massachusetts, in the governing of some 17 of the 48 parishes of Louisiana controlled by the Union armies, an area holding a fourth of the slaves of Louisiana. He would like to see the state recognize the emancipation proclamation.

Races Live Together
"And while she is at it, I think it would not be objectionable for her to adopt some practical system by which the two races could gradually live themselves out of their old relation to each other, and both come out better prepared for the new. Education for the young blacks should be included in the plan.

"To Gov. Michel Hahn, elected in 1864 by a majority of the 11,000 white male voters who had taken the oath of allegiance to the Union, Lincoln wrote:

"Now you are about to have a convention which, among other things, will probably define the elective franchise. I barely suggest for your private consideration, whether some of the colored people may not be let in—as for instance the very intelligent and especially those who have fought gallantly in our ranks."

"Among the million words in the Lincoln utterance record, he interprets himself with a more keen precision than someone else offering to explain him. His simple opening of the House divided speech in 1858 serves for today:

Progress In Degeneracy
"If we could first know where we are, and whither we are tending we could better judge what to do, and how to do it."

"To his Kentucky friend, Joshua F. Speed, he wrote in 1855: 'Our progress in degeneracy appears to me to be pretty rapid.

As a nation we began by declaring that 'all men are created equal, except Negroes.' When the know-nothings get control, it will read 'all men are created equal except Negroes and foreigners and Catholics.' When it comes to this, I shall prefer emigrating to some country where they make no pretense of loving liberty."

"Infinitely tender was his word from a White House balcony to a crowd on the White House lawn: 'I have not willingly planted a thorn in any man's bosom.'

"Or to a military governor: 'I shall do nothing through malice; what I deal with is too vast for malice.'

"He wrote for Congress to read on December 1, 1862: 'In times like the present men should utter nothing for which they would not willingly be responsible through time and eternity.'

Warns Congress
"Like an ancient psalmist he warned Congress:

"Fellow citizens, we cannot escape history. We will be remembered in spite of ourselves. No personal significance or insignificance can spare one or another of us. The fiery trial through which we pass will light us down in honor or dishonor to the latest generation."

"Wanting Congress to break and forget past traditions his words came keen and flashing:

"The dogmas of the quiet past as inadequate for the stormy present. We must think anew, we must act anew, we must disenthrall ourselves."

"They are the sort of words that actuated the mind and will of the men who created and navigated that marvel of the sea, the Nautilus, and her voyage from Pearl Harbor and under the North Pole icecap.

"The people of many other countries take Lincoln now for their own. He belongs to them. He stands for decency, honest dealings, plain talk, and funny stories. Look where he came from—don't he know all us struggles and wasn't he a kind of tough struggler all his life right up to the finish? Something like that you can hear in any nearby neighborhood and across the seas. Millions there are who take him as a personal treasure.

"He had something they would like to see spread everywhere over the world. Democracy? We cannot say exactly what it is, but he had it. In his blood and bones he carried it. In the breath of his speeches and writings it is there. Popular government? Republican institutions? Government where the people have the say-so, one way or another telling their elected leaders what they want? He had the idea. It is there in the lights and shadows of his personality, a mystery that can be lived but never fully spoken in words.

"Our good friend, the poet and playwright Mark Van Doren, tells us:

"Most Interesting Man"
"To me, Lincoln seems, in some ways, the most interesting man who ever lived. He was gentle but this gentleness was combined with a terrific toughness, an iron strength."

"And how did Lincoln say he would like to be remembered? Something of it is in this present occasion, the atmosphere of this room. His beloved friend, Representative Owen Lovejoy, of Illinois, had died in May of 1864, and friends wrote to Lincoln and he replied that the pressure of duties kept him from joining them in efforts for a marble monument to Lovejoy, the last sentence of Lincoln's letter, saying:

"Let him have the marble monument along with the well-assured and more enduring one in the hearts of those who love liberty, unselfishly, for all men."

"Today we may say, perhaps, that the well-assured and most enduring memorial to Lincoln is invisibly there, today, tomorrow, and for a long time yet to come. It is there in the hearts of lovers of liberty, men and women—this country has always had them in crisis—men and women who understand that wherever there is freedom there have been those who fought, toiled, and sacrificed for it.

"I thank you."

BIG AND LITTLE OF IT
NEW YORK (AP) — Four play closings afford vivid evidence of the relative cost of failure on Broadway and off-Broadway.

On one weekend two Broadway entries, "Edwin Booth" and "Drin to Me Only" shut down at an estimated $220,000. At the same time "Cock-a-Do! Dandy" and "Deathwatch" called a halt to their off-Broadway careers — at a total loss of $25,000.

3 INDICTED FOR BRIBERY IN UNION CASE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A federal Grand Jury handed down two indictments Tuesday charging illegal payments were made to a United Mine Workers official by the Knox Coal Co. of Pittston to avoid labor trouble.

Named in the indictments were Dominic J. Alaimo, committee man of UMW Local 8005; Robert L. Dougherty, of Wyoming, and Louis Fabrizio, of Yatesville. Dougherty is president and Fabrizio acting general manager of Knox Coal.

Alaimo is accused of accepting $30,755.21 between May 1954 and January of this year in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act. The payments allegedly were made regularly by the company on the first and 15th of each month.

"Sweetheart Contracts"
A Justice Department official said the alleged payments involved "sweetheart contracts," a term used in labor circles to mean agreements which give greater benefits to management than to employees.

Alaimo was identified by the official as one of 60 men who attended the "gangland convention" at Apalachin, N. Y., in November, 1957.

The Taft-Hartley Act prohibits employers from making any payments to union representatives of their employees and also forbids the acceptance of such payments. The act provides penalties up to one year imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — John Hubert Hagerty, 63, head of a Missouri rock quarry firm and a partner in Chicago catering and food service companies, died Monday after an illness of six months. He had lived most of his adult life in Chicago where he operated a realty company.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Andre Smith, 79, who designed the Distinguished Service Cross for the U.S. government and was one of the pioneers of American art, died Tuesday. He was a director of the Art Research Studio at nearby Maitland. He was born in Hong Kong.

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — William C. Stumpf Jr., 50, vice president and treasurer of Jessop Steel Co., died Tuesday after a brief illness. He also was vice president and treasurer of the company's subsidiary, Green River Steel Corp., of Owensboro, Ky.

near Pittston was the scene of a disaster Jan. 22. Twelve men were entombed when the icy waters of the swollen Susquehanna River chewed a hole in the river bed. The Knox mine and several others were flooded by billions of gallons of water and have not yet reopened. Giant pumps have been set up to siphon off the river water.

In Washington Tuesday night, Thomas Kennedy, UMW international vice president, said Alaimo "won't be permitted to hold office" in the union. He said the international would initiate an immediate investigation of the case and charges probably would be preferred against Alaimo by the union's local or by district officials.

Case For Hiring Handicapped Presented In Essay By John Stoner, Bermudian Student

Each year throughout the nation, committees organized on the county level to place emphasis on the employment of handicapped persons conduct essay contests among high school students. These contests are judged on the county level, county winners on the state level, and state winners in a national contest.

This year, John Stoner, a Bermudian Springs High School junior in the East Berlin unit, won first prize in Adams County for his essay on "Hiring the Handicapped in Our Town." This is his prize-winning "case" for employment of handicapped persons: "Is there room for the handicapped in competitive industry today? We must certainly believe that there is, if there is room for anyone! A handicapped person is one who has a hindrance or disadvantage to a normal way of life. The problem of the person is to overcome this handicap and the place of industry is to use his ability.

Not Special

Special jobs for the handicapped do not have to be created. There is some handicapped person who can do almost any job in industry or office. An example of the adaptation of which they are capable is a man in Knoxville, Tennessee. He is an amputee with only one arm and is a carpenter by trade. With his one arm he can drive a nail as fast as anyone. He grasps his hammer close to the head, presses the nail into position, and then starts it into the wood before it can fall—with one short stroke.

There are many practical, yes, even pressing reasons why the handicapped should be hired. One city of 250,000 inhabitants found that 1,500 disabled men and women within its own limits and the surrounding county could earn their living. They were surprised to learn that 500 families were receiving $320,000 of aid annually because of the "disability" of bread-winners. These were sobering truths, especially in light of the fact that much of this burden on the taxpayers was unnecessary. Many of these people could be placed in gainful work.

One individual helped by the committee organized for the rehabilitation of these disabled people was a man whom we shall call Philip McGonnel. Phil, a draftsman, tramped the streets for days searching for work. He had only one finger on each hand, a condition which caused employers to reject him. The rehabilitation team found Phil a job and today he is doing well with his technical drawing.

Helpful Interest

This shows what one city had done. This is neither an isolated nor an impossible solution to the problem. Any town with a helpful interest in the welfare of its citizens can open the way to employment for its handicapped.

Self-sufficiency is a prerequisite to happy and worthwhile living and can be attained only when an individual has profitable employment. In the past many disabled citizens have found themselves shut out of industry and other areas of work. This situation has been caused partly by prejudice and misunderstanding. In keeping with the American ideal of "promoting the general welfare" we should remove this ill feeling.

Some are not dependent on the community's businesses for employment. A few work on farms and are capable of all the duties that face them there. Others own a small business in town and possibly have a few men hired to help with the work. Unfortunately, such cases are all too few. There are thousands of others who depend entirely upon local factories, offices and other places of employment for their jobs. Let us see what the effect will be if these employers hire the handicapped.

Family Benefits

First of all the individual who secures the job will benefit. He will have financial security and a means of livelihood other than the needed but humiliating relief check upon which he formerly depended. A job will give him a renewed sense of independence, enthusiasm and initiative. Naturally this benefit will be felt by his family too.

Employers who resist hiring the handicapped are often concerned with the dangers of giving them jobs in mechanized industry. They think of the handicapped as ill people and therefore worry about absenteeism, accidents and sick leave. Records of a company which hires only the handicapped were compared with figures on "unimpaired" workers compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The results showed for days searching for work. He

Out of 100 average working days national figures showed 110 times as much absenteeism as the "handicapped!" Thirty five times as much sick leave was noted on national figures. Absence resulting from injury average 14.3 days per year for "average" persons and only six days for the handicapped.

Trend In Favor

While the difference in such comparisons may not always be so great, the same trend in favor of the handicapped will be noted. This shows how the employer can benefit from hiring the disabled.

The main thing which interests an employer when seeking workers is the production level of the individual. Is he going to do at least average, or possibly better than average work? There are many things which determine a person's ability to work. A look into these qualities will show us how a handicapped individual can overcome his difficulty.

First of all, physical qualities which have not been impaired can be used to offset the handicap. For example, if a man loses his hearing in one ear, by increased concentration the hearing ability of his other ear will become more acute. His eyes, too, will likely become more observant so he will not be as dependent on his hearing.

To show how this works in industry let us consider the record of Arch. Arch was a muscular man who made his living by doing heavy manual work. One day as he was operating a tractor lift at the factory, a heavy steel beam dropped on his back.

Change Of Trade

His spine was broken and it was evident that rehabilitation to his former physical strength would never take place. He was not easily defeated though, and was able to secure a job doing precision work. Today he is supervisor of all precision work at the factory where he works. Here was a man who was able to learn to do fine, intricate work because he was unable to follow his former occupation. His determination made him an asset to society.

Experience and training are other factors which can offset a physical handicap. If an individual has had good experience and some education in a certain field he is better equipped to perform his job. An artificial leg would not hinder a typist or a secretary from doing good work if she had had sufficient training. Here we see that there are various

ASSERTS IKE'S LABOR BILL IS BEST PROGRAM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell urged Congress Wednesday to enact labor control legislation that is "neither too heavy-handed nor too hesitant."

Mitchell, opening two days of scheduled testimony before a House Labor subcommittee, said in a prepared statement: "Legislation can try to do too much and cause new problems. It can dodge existing problems and leave the public unprotected."

He said the Eisenhower administration's labor law proposals fill the bill.

Mitchell was the major witness as the fight over labor legislation got under way in the House.

Individual Rights

"The main concern of the administration in developing this ways in which a handicapped person can be of greater service to his employer than can an individual with no visible disability.

Employers are certainly interested in getting the best help they can. This can be done only when hiring is done with an unbiased view of all applicants for work. Remember, a handicapped person with initiative and industry will accomplish more than any individual without these traits.

program," Mitchell said, "has been the protection of the individual rights of the working men and women and the interests of the public in a manner which will aid, and not hinder, the furtherance of the growth of legitimate trade unionism."

The subcommittee also is considering a House version of the Senate bill drafted by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and a far-reaching labor control bill by Chairman Graham Barden (D-NC) of the Labor Committee.

Barden's proposals, Mitchell argued in effect, go too far; Kennedy's not far enough.

Kennedy Bill Weak

Mitchell particularly criticized the Kennedy measure for what he termed its "failure to deal with the matters of blackmail picketing and the loopholes in the secondary boycott provisions."

Blackmail picketing is the term used to describe picketing designed to coerce an employer to recognize a certain union or his employees to join it against their will.

A secondary boycott occurs when a union involved in a labor dispute applies pressure to a third party in an effort to win concessions from the employer being struck.

SAYS RUSSIA, EAST GERMANY WILL SIGN PACT

By CARL HARTMAN

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Wednesday the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if the West fails to come to terms on an all-German settlement.

Khrushchev accused the West of refusing his proposals on Germany without proposing any alternatives "that a normal human intelligence can agree to."

The Western Allies have refused to recognize Premier Otto Grotewohl's Red East German regime, which never has faced a free election, as a legal government. The West insisted they would not deal with it on Berlin controls that the Russians propose to give up this spring.

Crowd Not Enthusiased

The Soviet leader insisted in a 20-minute speech that his government wants only peace—and needs peace to carry out its seven-year economic expansion program.

Khrushchev had just arrived for consultation with his East German Communist allies and a visit to Leipzig's trade fair.

Speaking before a big crowd in a rain, he insisted all the Soviet Union wants is peace.

"However much these people

RAIN FLOODS MUSIC BOWL

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A downpour flooded Melbourne's new outdoor Music Bowl Tuesday night, and the crowds that turned out to hear Billy Graham were blamed.

The American evangelist drew a total of 250,000 people to the bowl for nightly meetings last week. The crowds overflowed onto the grassy mound surrounding the amphitheater, trampling the lawn into fine dust.

The heavy rain washed away the earth, clogging the drains and blocking the electric pumps which failed.

The evangelist shifted his meetings from the bowl in the center of town to the city Show Grounds four miles away and suffered a sharp drop in attendance.

Between 25,000 and 60,000 persons had been coming out nightly at the bowl, but only 15,000 showed up Tuesday night.

ers, "nothing will come of it."

A crowd which the East German Communist radio estimated at "tens of thousand" heard the brief speech without marked enthusiasm. They did cheer and applaud, though, when he spoke of peace.

PROBE CRASH OF BUS KILLING NINE CHILDREN

TIFTON, Ga. (AP)—State and county investigators sought today to learn why a school bus tumbled from a dirt road into a pond, causing the drowning deaths of nine children.

It was not the bus Doyce Jones usually drove but a preliminary check showed the county-owned vehicle had no mechanical defects. Officials were baffled as to the reason the veteran 40-year-old driver lost control.

Overcrowded Bus

The bus careened off a road in south Georgia Tuesday. Nine Negro children perished before they could be lifted from the vehicle as it lay on its side in the shallow, muddy farm pond. Five of the victims were girls, four were boys. Their ages ranged from 7 to 14.

Jones' regular bus had seats for 54 students. The one he drove Tuesday could seat 48. Estimates as to the actual number of passengers varied from 60 to 90.

"It is virtually impossible to determine how many were aboard," said H. B. Allen, county school superintendent. "The driver normally would not take a count until the bus arrived at school."

The Day Christ Died

The author's detailed, hour-by-hour account of the most dramatic day in history started with 6 p.m. — the beginning of the Hebrew day.

Jesus' teachings and denunciations of unworthy leaders of the people, His miracles, the growing numbers of persons who hailed Him as the Messiah, had roused the resolute enmity of the native high priest Caiaphas and members of the Sanhedrin, the native supreme court. They feared Jesus would wreck their power and influence. He came into Jerusalem for the Passover, knowing of their determination to destroy Him.

During the Passover feast with His chosen twelve disciples at the house of Mark's father, Jesus made plain in farewell instructions to the Disciples that He was aware His betrayal to the rulers was near. He knew, too, that Judas had become alienated from Him. He was ready; quietly, He told Judas, "That which you must do, do quickly."

Judas hastened to the palace of Caiaphas, divulged Jesus' whereabouts, and agreed to point Him out to Roman police by giving Jesus a kiss. Caiaphas proceeded with the design he had already formed: that Jesus be tried and convicted by the Sanhedrin as a false prophet and revolutionist. Caiaphas expected the sentence of death to be confirmed by the Roman procurator, who had the power of review.

Meanwhile, the Last Supper has come to an end. Jesus and His followers leave the dining hall and walk out into the quiet night.

Now continue Mr. Bishop's vivid narration in the seventh hour:

12:01 A.M.
April 7, A.D. 30

JUST after midnight Jesus and the eleven passed the Lower Pool and moved toward the Fountain Gate. Some pilgrims were coming through the gate from the hill country to the east and Jesus turned left and walked along the chalky road which hugs the base of the great east wall of the city.

"Do not let your heart be troubled," He said at one pause in the journey. "Do not let your heart despair. You heard Me say to you: 'I am going home and I am coming back to you.'"

It may be that Jesus sensed that they were tiring of so many things to remember. "I am not going to converse with you much longer, for already the prince of this world is on his way. Not that he can claim anything in Me as His own; no, but then, the world must come to know that I love the Father and am acting strictly according to the Father's instructions."

Moon Passed Zenith
The group had been resting by the side of the room; the Gentle One followed these words with: "Rise, we must be going on our way."

The moon had passed the zenith, and it threw the shadow of the high east wall across the little road they followed. The road itself was only six or eight feet above the Brook Cedron which, in the month of Nisan, was a fading freshet.

On the left, they passed the village of Gihon, which hugged the bottom edge of the wall. Farther along, they passed the little hilly village of Siloam on the opposite side of the brook. Along here, thousands of families camped outside and holy city and the embers of their fires were ruddy in the night breeze. From here, the walk toward the Mount of Olives was on a slight curving grade.

The road moved a little bit away from the wall and now they could see the real beauty of the great temple. The lamps were lighted all along the Porch of Solomon and it stood cool and august in the glow of a thousand man-made fireflies. Above that rose the great east facade of the temple, its four-story solid-gold cluster of grapes and the gold-pointed spires glistening in the white light of the Nisan moon.

"More Abundant Fruit"
Jesus saw the glittering cluster of grapes and soon after He stopped the party and said: "I am the real vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. He prunes away any branch of Mine that bears no fruit, and cleans any branch that does bear fruit, that it may bear yet more abundant fruit."

"By now you are clean, thanks to the lessons I have given you. Remain united with Me, and I will remain united with you. A branch can bear no fruit of itself, that is, when it is not united with the vine; no more can you, if you do not remain united with Me. I am the vine, you are the branches. One bears abundant fruit only when he and I are mutually united; severed from Me, you can do nothing. If one does not remain united with Me, he is simply thrown away like a branch, and dries up."

The party moved on, and the Apostles were fatigued to the bone. It had been a long day; they had been up by dawn in Bethany, where Jesus had left His mother in the care of Mary and Martha.

"Their Brains Ached"
It was past midnight now, and the eyes of the fishermen were heavy and their feet were slow. Besides, their Lord had said so much that their brains ached with remembering.

They did not complain because they sensed that this night they might receive the last of many lessons from the Messiah and they knew that they would have to remember, before they could apply the word. These men were very human. Grief for the suffering and impending death of his beloved Jesus must have stunned young John, just as the humility of his brother James surely prevented appreciation of his own adequacy for the job ahead.

Soon they were underneath the cemetery outside the wall, and in the darkness the sepulchers and the little ossuaries looked like so many broken teeth. Near here they crossed the stone bridge over the Brook Cedron and took the road on the far side toward the little gethsemane where they would sleep.

"My Commandment"
When they came abreast of the three great mausoleums — one of which was built to the memory of Absalom — which had been standing gaunt and friendless for five hundred years, Jesus glanced briefly at them. He had condemned memorials to the dead a long time ago. Now He stopped again.

"This is My commandment," Again He said, "Love one another as I love you. No one can give greater proof of his love than by laying down his life for his friends. You are My friends" — He looked around at the wan, bearded faces "provided you do what I command you."

Surely, this often-repeated commandment to love had now taken root in the Apostles' hearts. It would not only sustain them during the hours that lay just ahead, but, of course, become the central theme and identification of Christians throughout the ages.

Mount Of Olives
They were two hundred yards from the little olive press in the miniature valley which separates Jerusalem from the Mount of Olives. For some time now, since they had crossed the brook, they had been bearing away from the city. At the gethsemane, the wall and the temple are a quarter of a mile to the west.

He made no more pronouncements until He reached the stone caves with the big rotary presses, full of the odor of old oil. During this walk, He had been concerned, in the main, with imparting to His leaders the few basic fundamentals of His New Testament. These eleven would, with proper roots, produce new branch for the teachings of their Master, and they would impart His blessings and His sacraments.

It was complex and burdensome for these simple, believing men to try to understand these truths, and they were comforted to know that, after Jesus had gone, the Holy Ghost would come to them and repose within them without their knowledge; that He would reveal many things to them and even sharpen their memories so that the words of Jesus would come back truly and clearly.

Had Further Task
They turned off the little road near the juncture of the highway to Jericho, and moved easily in the moonlight among the little olive trees at the base of the mountain. Jesus knew that He had a further task. He must tell them something of the future. They were innocent of the trials ahead; they were human reeds easily bent and broken; some, He knew, would not pass the first trial tonight. And yet He had to tell them so that, in remembering His words, they would, in the days ahead, be armed with His prophecies.

"If the world hates you," He said as they moved into a big cave cut in the limestone, "bear in mind that I have hated Me first. If you were children of the world, the world would cherish its own flesh and blood. But you are not children of the world; on the contrary, I have singled you out from the world, and therefore the world hates you."

Jesus was speaking, it seemed to His troubled Disciples, as if of the hatred of the world — this hatred of the Messiah — should be taken for granted.

Lost Vision Of Victory
But wasn't this contrary to everything they had learned, everything they had hoped? They would not be kings, then, sitting on thrones flanking His; instead they were to take His word out to people who would not listen, people who would scorn and revile, and often kill cruelly the men sent to them with the word of God. Now, for a time, they must have lost their vision of victory.

With good courage a man such as Peter could make an impetuous offer of his life, but here for a moment he lost his religious (and gallant) sense of victory in death. The Apostle Thomas was most easily reconciled to the brutal truth of future martyrdom. He would be the first to welcome such a role.

"Remember what I told you: a slave is not better off than his master. If they persecuted Me, they will persecute you also; if they took My teaching to heart, they will take to heart yours also. Not only that: it is because you profess My name that they will treat you in all these ways; for they do not know Him whose ambassador I am. Had I not come with a message to them, they would have no sin: as it is, they have no excuse for their sin."

"Hates Without Cause"
"He who hates Me hates My Father also. Had I not done in their midst what no one else has ever done, they would have no sin; as it is, they have seen and hated both Me and My Father. How pitiful that this saying in their Law must needs be fulfilled 'They have hated Me without cause!'"

One by one, the Apostles sat. A little light filtered from the moon through the olive trees into the cave. One stood and lit a few old lamps along the wall and now they could see Jesus plainly in the feeble saffron glow. He looked taller, broader, and some noticed for the first time that His feet were bare.

A few stood leaning against the cave wall, understanding that this was the moment to chisel into their minds every feature, every aspect, every attitude and every word so that someday soon, when He would be no longer with them, they could say to the new disciples of Jesus: "This is how He looked. This is how He talked. This is what He told us to tell you."

Message Of Love
No one knows what the Apostles thought of His most recent discourse, especially of the two references to "they would have no sin." Jesus had told the people, and more especially the Pharisees and the Sadducees, that the external signs of obedience to the law of God were as nothing; rubbish. They were as worthless as the rich, heavy bark of a tree which conceals the rot inside. He had come with a message of love, a command to love, from His Father, and they had been appalled.

"When the Advocate whom I am going to send you with a mission from the Father — the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father — has come, He will witness in My behalf," Jesus continued. "And you, too, will witness, because you have been with Me from the beginning."

This was the second time, within the hour, that He had assured the eleven that they would not be alone after He had gone.

"I have told you this, that you may not waver in your faith. You will be put out of the synagogue," He said quietly, and He looked about to see whether the fear which He sensed was apparent. It wasn't, and Jesus continued: "Not only that: a time is coming when anyone who kills you will think he is offering to God an act of supreme worship."

Human Fear Shows
Those who had been leaning against the wall sat upright and listened. "And they will do this because they know neither the Father nor Me." Now human fear began to show in lines around the eyes of the men who listened. "But enough!" the Messiah said. "I have told you this, so that, when the time comes for it to happen, you may recall that I told you so. I did not tell you all this at the outset, because I was still with you."

They were not comforted. They had accepted sudden death as a daily risk in their business of fishing the Sea of Galilee, but to have the Messiah predict violent death for some of them because of the work they would do for love of Him was almost too much to bear. They looked at each other and some swallowed hard.

Jesus studied the tense faces in the dim light. "I tell you the truth: it is to your advantage that I depart. Unless I depart, the Advocate will not come to you; whereas, if I depart, I will send Him to you. There is still much that I might say to you; but you are not strong enough to bear it at present. But when He, the Spirit of truth, has come, He will conduct you through the whole range of truth."

Here Was Solace
Jesus had been their advocate in the flesh; now they would have a spiritual one who would never leave them. The sleepy Apostles joined the ones who were standing, and some walked around the cave to induce greater wakefulness. Here again was solace; when they did not have Jesus, the Paraclete would guide them. And the Paraclete was also a divine spirit like the Father and the Son.

The eleven men closest to Jesus in His ministry to the world were beginning to have a slight understanding of the divine Trinity. They may not have comprehended the separate sides of the mystery as, indeed, no man would ever understand it except, perhaps, to illustrate it with a figure of speech likening it to fog over an icy lake and pointing to the fact that the ice, the water and the fog are separate entities, but that each one is water. But, for what He told them, they had progressed from the point of thinking of Yahweh as God one and alone, to God the Father and God the Son, and now, this evening, to God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Ghost, equal and indivisible.

Jesus Was Patient
"A little while and you see Me no longer," Jesus said, "and again a little while, and you will see Me." This too mystified those who stood in the little gethsemane, because they did not relate it to His death — the words, to them, described a man going on a journey. They began to ask each other what was meant, and Jesus now was patient with them, fatigued as He was.

"Is this what you are discussing among yourselves, My saying: 'A little while, and you do not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me'? I must be perfectly frank with you: you will weep and lament, while the world rejoices. You will be plunged in sorrow, but your sorrow will be turned into joy."

"When a woman is about to give birth, she is in sorrow because her hour has come; but when she has brought forth her child, she no longer remembers her pangs for sheer joy that a human being has been born into the world.

"Grant Your Requests"
"So you, too, at present you are in sorrow; but I shall see you again, and then your hearts will rejoice, and no one will take your joy away from you. That will be the time when you ask Me no more questions. . . If you make any request of My Father, He will grant it to you in My name. Up to the present you made no requests in My name. Make them, and they will be granted. Thus nothing will be wanting to your joy."

This was not only the story of His death and of His resurrection from a new grave, but it was more than that — it was a direct challenge to doubters (if any existed among the eleven present) to prove the divinity of Jesus by asking the Father for something in His name. In the final fifteen hours of His life, Jesus was prepared to have His Apostles put Him to the test.

"Thus far," He said, in His final discourse to them, "I have spoken to you in proverbs. A time is coming when I no longer speak to you in proverbs, but tell you about the Father in plain language. That will be the time when you make requests in My name; and I do not tell you that I shall petition the Father in your behalf. Of His own accord the Father loves you dearly, because you are settled in your love for Me and in your conviction that I come from the Father. I come from the Father and have come into the world.

Going Home To Father
"And now I am leaving the world and going home to the Father."

The eleven were so pleased with the little speech that they interrupted the discourse and, with happiness in their eyes, began to say: "There now You are speaking plainly and avoid all figures of speech. Now we know that You know everything and need not wait till someone asks You. And that is why we believe that You come from God."

Jesus nodded in understanding, partly pleased, partly in sorrow. "You now believe?" He said. "Mark well: a time is coming, in fact, it is at hand, when you will scatter, each going back to his home, and leave Me all alone! Not that I am really alone, for the Father is with Me. I have forewarned you of this event, for you may find peace of soul in union with Me. In the world, afflictions are in store for you. 'But have courage,' He said to them finally; 'I have overcome the world.'"

While the Apostles sleep, you will stand sorrowing as Jesus, knowing that his time has come, suffers the terrible agony in the garden. Be sure to follow Mr. Bishop Friday as he paints a poignant word-picture of pain.

MANY BRITISH PLAYS, ACTORS ON TV IN U. S.

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Somebody asked why so many British actors and actresses are appearing on television. The answer is that so many British dramas are appearing on television.

The present TV drama season, with the exception of "Playhouse 90" offerings, almost makes it seem to be still a cultural colony of the dear old Empire.

Look at the playbill: "Berkeley Square," "What Every Woman Knows," "The Winslow Boy," "Ten Little Indians," "Hamlet," etc., etc. "Du Pont Show of the Month" has presented only one contemporary American play, "Harvey," with the exception of its well-known "The Lonely Heart," which was as British in its values and feeling as Buckingham Palace.

A Basic Difference
A typical example of a well-made, sturdy British play is "The Winslow Boy," which makes some solid dramatic statements on matters of faith and loyalty and justice. Fredric March said he was happy to appear in its TV version for just those reasons and because—unlike so many teleplays—it had a third act.

But those characteristics are not the hallmarks only of British plays. Equally fine craftsmanship and dramatic statements were to be found in such an excellent original teleplay as J. P. Miller's "The Years of Wine and Roses" on "Playhouse 90."

A basic difference between British and American drama is that ours tends to be more controversial. In dramatic terms, how can you tell a good story if you don't have a good controversy? In television terms, how can you have a good contemporary controversy if you have a sponsor?

And That's Why
"Playhouse 90" has managed it frequently, but others shy away from it.

And that is why we're seeing so much British drama on the home screen.

When the controversy is removed to another country, and generally another time, no one is offended. Britain, one of our dominant influences from the old world in language, culture and customs, offers Americans easily identifiable types of characters and situations.

Orrtanna

Mrs. Luther Wetzel
Phone Fairfield 125-R-21
ORRTANNA—Miss Mari Braaten, Norwegian exchange student at Gettysburg High School, was a guest of the Mt. Carmel EUB Sunday School Sunday morning and spoke briefly of her native land. She told of religious training in the schools of Norway. She then emphasized the good resulting from exchange students. By living in America, different attitudes are acquired rather than just seeing tourists from this country, she said. Other guests in the Sunday School and church service were Mr. and Mrs. Lefroy LeVan, daughter, Hannah, and son, David, of Gettysburg R. 1, with whom Miss Braaten is residing.

Mrs. Elsie Fitz and Mr. and Mrs. Welly Baker, Hagerstown, spent Sunday with the former's father, Samuel Fissel.

Samuel Fissel, 87, is reported quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Herring, Cornwall, visited the former's father, Mervin Herring, and other relatives. The elder Mr. Herring, 86, who has been seriously ill for the last week, shows no improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Utz and son, Ronald, Taneytown, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Deardorff.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker, Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wampler and family, Thomasville, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Wetzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowther, Washington, D. C., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman. Mrs. Ethel Ditzler, who had public sale here on Saturday, has gone to Cashtown where she will reside with her granddaughter, Mrs. Jay Spalding, and husband.

Mrs. Luther Wetzel was guest of honor at a dinner on Sunday in observance of her birthday anniversary at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wetzel. Others present were Luther Wetzel, Carol and Jane Wetzel, Orrtanna R. D., and Mr. and Mrs. John Wetzel and Brian Cole, Gettysburg.

UNIVERSAL MYSTERY

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—It has been five days since Discoverer II was blasted skyward from Vandenberg Air Force Base but the whereabouts of the 19-foot missile is still a mystery.

Radio signals were received for nine minutes after the Discoverer was launched, then only a smattering of unverified reports.

HIDDEN TALENT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police found out that one of 30 prisoners being taken to the city prison farm had a hidden talent. He picked the lock on the paddy wagon Wednesday and 10 prisoners hopped out before guards corrected the situation. Three were recaptured.

Traffic Tickets Go Out As Usual

DETROIT (AP)—Traffic violation ticket-writing by Detroit's police was back at a normal rate today.

The slowdown strike of officers rebelling against integration appeared to have run its full course after four days of the protest.

Police heads reorted little if anything left of the slowdown. At one time it brought severe reprimands and a threat of a crackdown on disobedient bluecoats.

Some scout car officers slowed down their ticketing of minor traffic offenders in protesting a police department plan to have a Negro and white officer as the crew in some scout cars.

MINERS WILL TELL HOW THEY ESCAPED MINE

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Some three dozen miners came here today to tell a legislative investigating committee how they escaped death last Jan. 22 when water flooded a Luzerne County coal mine in which they were working.

The men were part of the long list of witnesses expected to testify before the committee in its efforts to determine the cause of an underground flooding which still has 12 men trapped in the Knox coal mine near Pittston.

"We want these survivors to tell us as much as they can about events that led up to their going to work on that fateful day and what happened up to the time they escaped from the flooding pits," said Sen. Martin L. Murray (D-Luzerne).

Open And Public
Murray and nine other House and Senate members called for opening of public hearings today in a probe some legislators feel might last months.

The lawmakers said they expect to conduct hearings at least twice a week—probably Thursday and Fridays after the Legislature adjourns for the week at Harrisburg. The committee said at least 40 persons have been subpoenaed to appear before the group.

Murray said the relatives of 12 men still trapped in the underground workings have been asked to testify.

"In the cases of the relatives of the trapped men, we did not serve any papers but merely asked that they appear before the committee and tell us anything which might help our probe," Murray said.

Officials of the Knox Coal Co. and personnel of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., which leased the mine to Knox, were among those ordered to appear.

Meanwhile, workers toil round-the-clock to pump millions of gallons of water from the mine.

The water poured in from the swollen Susquehanna River under which the mine is partially located.

GODDARD IS PLEASED WITH NEW BUDGET

HARRISBURG (AP)—The head of the State Forests and Waters Department said today Gov. Lawrence's budget makes ample provision for sorely needed flood control work and improvements to state parks and harbors.

Secretary Maurice K. Goddard stressed the need for flood prevention projects in noting that Lawrence had requested an increase of $2,200,000 for this type work in the next two years.

"The importance of this flood control work cannot be overemphasized," Goddard asserted. "Pennsylvania is among the states hardest hit by floods. For the safety of all our citizens and for the economic security of our industry, we must build these projects."

Nearly Doubled
Lawrence's overall budget for the department totaled $17,217,585. The 1957-58 appropriation was $9,974,678.

Goddard said the department planned using $750,000 to augment federal funds for flood control projects at Allentown, Bethlehem and Bradford.

Lawrence asked $1,117,000 for improvements to 49 state parks and for forestry activities.

"The use of our state parks has tripled in the past few years," Goddard said. "The need for improvements at our older parks is urgent."

He added that the million dollars requested for harbor improvements at Philadelphia will allow the Philadelphia Department of Commerce to continue development of the new municipal marine terminal.

And $600,875 slated for the port of Erie will permit completion of the Duquesne marine terminal, he said.

Goddard noted that the latter improvements would enable the port of Erie to compete more effectively for commerce from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

wagon Wednesday and 10 prisoners hopped out before guards corrected the situation. Three were recaptured.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—Take everything British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said and everything Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said, put them together, mix thoroughly, and what have you got? A pretty dim, unenthusiastic view of things.

After days of talking together in Moscow Macmillan and Khrushchev publicly agreed they hadn't agreed on much. Macmillan said the Berlin situation has "dangerous implications" which must be settled by negotiation and not by force.

"Trouble Ahead"
No sooner had Macmillan returned home to London than reports from there said he is convinced troubled times lie ahead in Europe. He began preparing for urgent meetings in Washington, Paris and Bonn.

Meanwhile, the Soviets cut another caper Tuesday, just as ominous as everything else they have pulled recently. Once again they switched from sweet talk of peace to the threat of world war if the Western powers should use force to maintain their status in West Berlin.

Right after the Western Big Three in February proposed to the Soviet Union that their four foreign ministers discuss Berlin and the two Germanys, Macmillan flew to Moscow to talk it over with Khrushchev.

Red Makes Threats
Khrushchev had created a bad situation for the West by making a couple of threats as long ago as last November.

He had demanded that the three big Western Allies get their troops out of Berlin by May 27 and threatened to let the East German Communists block any supplies the Big Three tried to send their Berlin garrison after that.

Macmillan was greeted cordially when he first met with Khrushchev.

But while Macmillan was still in the U.S.S.R. Khrushchev hit him in the back of the head by publicly ridiculing the idea of a foreign ministers meeting and announcing that only a summit meeting could solve anything.

Withstands Affront
Macmillan withstood this affront, talked some more with Khrushchev. On Monday, the day before the Briton left Moscow, the Soviets said they'd agree to the ministers get-together but still thought a summit meeting was the answer. This may have seemed a little concession by the Soviets, a little step back.

But Tuesday, right after Macmillan got home, the Soviets released a note they had sent their satellites. This was another bang on the head for Macmillan.

The note to the satellites said the Soviet Union intended to make good its intentions of letting the East Germans have the say on whether the Western Allies could send supplies to their troops in Berlin.

Repeats Earlier Warning
It repeated a previous Soviet warning that if the West tried to batter its way through an East German blockade there would be war. Then it made mince-meat of the very idea it had agreed to on Monday: a foreign ministers meeting.

The note to the satellites denounced such a meeting—even before the West had a chance to consider the Soviet agreement—and said only a summit meeting could lower tensions.

This is hash. Now the Soviets are sitting back, waiting to see the Western allies try to eat it.

Disgruntled Heir Cools Off In Jail

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A disgruntled heir cooled off in jail today after damaging three houses which his grandmother willed to other members of the family.

Police Capt. Lewis Miller said Nayef Kasen of Montgomery was being held for a hearing in City Court Friday on charges of disorderly conduct and destruction of property.

About 50 smashed windows, kicked-out screens, two broken beds and shredded curtains lay in the wake of the rampage Wednesday after Kasen learned he had inherited only $500, Miller said.

TRY TO CRUSH NYASALAND RIOTING SPIRIT

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP)—Strong security forces are trying to crush a wave of militant African nationalism the British government charged was instigated to massacre white settlers.

Screaming vampire jets and armored cars were called out to break up riots Tuesday that resulted in 26 African dead and scores of wounded, including 32 nationalists and several policemen.

Crowds gathered menacingly all over this sprawling British East African protectorate—roused to a fighting temper by the arrest of nationalist leader Dr. Hastings Banda.

British Shaken
The rioters were accused of using women and children as human shields in a raid on a prison at Mzimba to free a number of African nationalists.

The uprising shook the British government in London. Opposition Laborites in the House of Commons warned of "another-prus."

No Operation Is Necessary For Bob

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope, told his eye trouble would clear up without surgery, was expected to leave for the West Coast today to prepare for a Sunday television show.

In a bulletin Wednesday night from Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Dr. Algernon B. Reese said: "There is no indication whatever that an operation will be required. Further diagnostic studies are being made in an effort to determine the exact cause."

The hospital said five fans—not identified—have offered to donate an eye to Hope. A hospital spokesman said, "Such a contingency is not being considered."

Hope has a blood clot in a vein behind his left eye which has affected his sight and stability.

WHITE COATS LEAD TO ARREST OF 2 BANDITS

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Two nearly white trench coats led to the arrest of two young men the FBI contends are the bandits who revived the old train robbery days by robbing a commuter bus last Friday.

The pair—Donald Abbott, 21, of Upper Montclair, and Walter J. Shaw, 22, of Montclair—were arrested by FBI agents Tuesday.

They were arraigned Wednesday on a charge of theft from interstate shipment.

The shipment was a De Camp Co. bus loaded with 62 passengers making what seemed to be a normal run from New York to Caldwell and points in between.

Change To Car
Just after the bus emerged from the Lincoln Tunnel two young men aboard, clad in light trenchcoats, said "there's going to be a holdup." There was and they collected $655 from the passengers before alighting to their waiting car in Rutherford.

The FBI began checking stores who sold similar coats. One in Montclair remembered selling coats to two boys that answered the description of the bandits. With the help of Montclair police, the FBI arrested Abbott near a tavern in Montclair and Shaw near his home. They said two .45 caliber automatics were in Abbott's closet.

Regional treat: Pennsylvania Dutch cooks often stuff a chicken that is to be roasted with a mixture of creamy mashed potatoes, cubes of soft bread, onion and eggs.

Boyd defended the proclamation of a state of emergency in the protectorate populated by 3 million blacks and only 6,000 whites. He declared the government had uncovered African plans for a massacre.

The arrest of Banda, 54, who describes himself as "the extremist of the extremists" but against violence, was followed by the roundup of more than 100 nationalist leaders. The government banned their organization, the African National party.

TIME ARTICLE WAS NOT FUNNY TO BOLIVIANS

By THOMAS J. STONE
LA PAZ, Bolivia, (AP)—How could a magazine article touch off violent anti-American demonstrations in Bolivia, traditionally friendly to the United States?

Bolivians violently objected to one paragraph of a two-column article in the Latin-American edition of Time magazine on the country's acutely serious economic situation.

The paragraph, not carried in the U.S. edition of the magazine, noted a U.S. Embassy official as saying that "the only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

Wasn't Funny There
The article made it clear the official was wisecracking.

But it was not funny in a country which over the centuries has lost territory to its five neighbors—Chile, Peru, Brazil, Paraguay and Argentina.

Bolivia, with a population of four million, is beset by one of the worst cases of inflation South America and is up to its ears in critical economic troubles. As Time pointed out, U.S. aid has saved Bolivia from economic catastrophe.

Explosive Reaction
But when Bolivians read Spanish translations in La Paz newspapers of the Time article, the reaction was explosive.

Two thousand marched on the U.S. Embassy Monday and hurled stones through the windows, set fire to U.S. automobiles and shouted anti-American slogans. The U.S. Information Service library was invaded, windows were broken, and books and magazines were destroyed.

Police, trying to control the mob, used tear gas and fired riot guns. In the melee student Is

ALERT YOUTH TRAPS ADDICT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jeffrey Kerker, 12, watched quietly as a car drove up suspiciously behind his house at nearby San Bruno. It had been raining.

A man got out of the car, lifted the hood and removed a plastic bag. He hid the bag under a rock. Jeffrey picked up a stick and scratched the car's license number in the mud. After the car drove away, he picked up the bag and took it into his mother, Mrs. Clarence Kerker, a former Navy nurse.

She recognized the vials inside the bag as narcotics containers and telephoned the police. The next night the same car rolled up to the same spot and a man got out. Narcotics agents and police arrested him.

That was nearly two months ago. Tuesday the San Mateo County grand jury indicted the driver, Earl J. Brinson, 36, and Garfield Hammond on charges of narcotics violations.

Officers withheld Jeff's story until then.

Fairfield

Mrs. Clarence Wilson Times Reporter — Phone 6
FAIRFIELD — State Senator Douglas Elliott of Chambersburg will deliver the address at the annual Memorial service in the Fairfield Union Cemetery on Sunday, May 24. The full program will be announced later.

Miss Dorothy Johnson, student nurse at the Hagerstown Hospital, visited recently at the home of her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lott.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Musselman and Mr. and Mrs. Olmer Spence have returned from a three-week vacation in Florida.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. McCullough, Carlisle, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Albert Culbertson.

The Homemakers Group will meet Thursday afternoon, March 19, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Benner. "Creative Arts For Children" will be the discussion topic. Leon Harbaugh, area treasurer; Nelson Kauffman and Wendell Wetzel, accompanied by their advisor, Robert Leier, represented the Fairfield High School FFA Club at the area executive meeting in Gettysburg High School last week.

Sunday visitors at the home of B. B. Wertz and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sites were Harold T. Wertz, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. George Wertz and son, Edward, Leesburg, Va.; and Mrs. Dwight Strausbaugh Sr., and granddaughter, Charlene.

"Care Of The Aged In The Presbyterian Homes" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Ira M. Henderson, speaker at the joint meeting of the Dorcas and Altar Guilds of Zion Lutheran Church in the parish house last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Samuel Musselman was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Paul Newman, of the Dorcas Guild, and Miss Helen McCreaf, of the Altar Guild, were hostesses. Mrs. Mervin Sanders and Mrs. Wilmer Sanders were welcomed into membership of the Dorcas Guild. The Dorcas Guild plans a "Young In Heart" party in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deardorff, Mrs. Ida Slonaker, Miss Alma Tenry and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deardorff and two daughters attended the capping exercises of the Harrisburg School of Nursing Friday evening when Miss Glenda Deardorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deardorff, was one of the 73 members of the class of 1961 who were capped. The exercises were held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Harrisburg.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated in Zion Lutheran Church Easter Sunday, March 29. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the Lutheran ministry at Gettysburg, will officiate.

The Fairfield Lions Club will sponsor a card party in the Fairfield High School cafeteria next Wednesday evening. The following committee will be in charge: Irvy Weikert, E. H. Newman, Guy Seifert, Clarence Wilson, Ames McGrain, Robert Willis, Irvy Spence, William Bingham and Jack McAndrews.

The Fairfield Lions Club plans to buy and erect street signs in the borough of Fairfield. The signs will be about six inches wide, as necessary and will bear small Lions emblem. Delivery of the signs has been promised within six months by the manufacturer.

Mrs. Clarence Wilson entertained the bridge club on Monday evening. Miss Mary Harbaugh will be hostess to the group in two weeks.

Wulles Is Given Injection Of Gold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors, to injected radioactive gold into cretary of State John F. Kennedy Tuesday, plan to resume ray therapy of his cancer in a few days. A fluid containing gold was injected into the patient's abdominal cavity as reinforcement for earlier X-ray treatments. Dulles has received nine dosages of Feb. 20 from a million-volt ray machine at Walter Reed Medical Center.
